POSSE EXPECTS BATTLE WITH FUGITIVE GANG

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.—Mrs. Eugene Meyer, chairman of the Westchester County New York Recreation Commission for the last thirteen years, has initiated a new and effective technique in informing the country of the shattering effects of large scale boondoggling.

She describes in devastating detail the red tape, waste and inefficiency of WPA in its game of providing jobs and other relief.

No matter how desperate the need of the applicant his party affiliation is demanded. The amazing fact is that the sort of thing Mrs. Meyer tells about is happening everywhere under our noses.

If the people who are wearied and alarmed by the New Deal havoc in their communities would do as Mrs. Meyer is doing and expose the true situation in each locality, the worthless projects, the bureaucratic tryanny, the political corruption, it would be far more effective than high sounding speeches on the general situation could possibly be.

PA NEW OBSERVES

The Elks club is beautifying the small lawn that borders its lodge home at North Mill and Falls streets.

When the Rural avenue hill project of the WPA is completed, there will be another convenient route to the North Hill section. The hill road has been widened all the way to the Park avenue intersection, and, once the surface treatment has been given, its traffic will probably be heavier than before.

The newest of Pennsylvania railroad locomotives will be at the West Side depot from 7:30 to 11:30 a. m. on Saturday, May 16. The giant engine, streamlined and all, will be here for public inspection.

Today was the first day this month when the temperature was cooler than the corresponding date a year ago. May temperatures have been much above the normal, and far warmer than last year, but last night conditions were different. The mercury dropped to within two degrees of the freezing point during the night. During May of 1935, frosts occurred on May 18, 22 and 24.

Pa New is informed by a Waldo resident that ice was frozen at a number of places in that vicinity this morning, revealing the extent of the drop in temperature during the night.

A Lawrence county farmer told Young Pa New this morning that fruit crops this season are being threatened by tent caterpillars, throughout the district. This pest promises to be the worst in many years.

Many a car in New Castle today carries the "safe driving" pledge sticker of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Daily Weather Report

Escaped Convicts And Two Hostages Sought By Posse

Heavily Armed Men Trail Desperadoes In Oklahoma Prison-Break

TWO GUARDS ARE HELD BY FUGITIVES

One Guard Killed, Another Badly Injured And Ten Convicts Shot In Break

(International News Service)
MCLESTER, Okla., May 14.—Heavily armed posses instructed to take no chances with their desperate quarry, renewed their search today for a band of escaped convicts and two guards held as hostages, with the manhunt concentrated in the heavily timbered country in this vicinity.

The fugitives, thought to be five in number, are members of a gang which staged a sensational break from the state penitentiary here yesterday.

One guard was killed, another severely wounded, and 10 of the desperate convicts were shot down by tower guards as they streamed through the prison gates. Six of the fleeing prisoners were recaptured without gunfire when a posse of prison guards overtook them as they were attempting to commandeer an automobile on a highway near the prison.

All Long Termers
All of the fugitives, Warden Roy Kenny said today, are long termers with bad records. Armed with pistols and rifles which they forced guards on the prison walls to surrender, Kenny said he expected them to fight to the death rather than surrender to face long terms in solitary confinement.

Kenny feared for the lives of the two guards held as hostages—Tuck Cope and Victor Conn.

Describing the fugitives as desperate, savage characters, Kenny said it is not unlikely the convicts would do away with their prisoners.

Light Frost May Occur

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 14.—Weather forecasters here today predicted a light frost tonight for western Pennsylvania and warned housewives and farmers to take precautions to protect flowers and vegetables.

Although the temperature fell 35 degrees during the night, Brozman said a prevailing wind had checked the frost. The wind will fall by tonight, he explained. The sudden drop broke a six-day record heat wave in which the mercury was above 80 degrees.

High School Musicians Compete At Cleveland

The state championship brass sextet of senior high school today was to compete for national honors in the brass sextet event of the National High School Music contest in Cleveland's public auditorium.

With two student soloists who are expected to compete in solo events, the brass sextet group left by bus for Cleveland this morning. The soloists were Charles Coulter, baritone horn player and one of the brass sextet members, and Gilbert Colinet, bassoon winner at the recent state contest in Pottsville, Pa.

Through the thoughtfulness of the merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce, the sextet members will appear in uniform dress before the Cleveland audience. Just before their departure, the boys were presented with handsome blue sashes to complete their ensemble. The donation came in appreciation of the prestige given the city when the boys won a permanent trophy at Pottsville.

Say Inflation Drive Killed In Congress

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 14.—While Democratic house leaders proudly boasted the inflation drive has been killed, backers of the Frazier-Lemke $3,000,000,000 inflation bill today announced the issue will be made a major congressional campaign issue.

Surprising even the leaders, the house late yesterday rejected the bill for refinancing of farm mortgages by a new currency issue by the thumping vote of 235 to 142.

"The fight has just begun," said Rep. William Lemke (R) of North Dakota, author of the measure. "We have won a victory—we have counted noses. We know where we stand. A good many members of congress will be clamoring on Nov. 4 because of their stand on this bill."

Ohio Gives Taft 47 Of Delegates

Five Are Pledged For Borah As Result Of Tuesday's Primary

EXPECT LANDON TO BENEFIT BY VOTE

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., May 14.—When the smoke of the Ohio primary election battle died away today Robert A. Taft, "favorite son" Republican presidential candidate, was found to have elected 47 national convention delegates to five elected by Sen. William E. Borah.

Campaign managers of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas claimed that all but a handful of the "favorite son" delegates would switch to Landon after an initial complimentary ballot for Taft at the Cleveland convention next month.

In the Democratic presidential preference contest, President Roosevelt scored an impressive victory over his lone rival, Col. Henry Breckinridge, New York "constitutional Democrat." Complete returns gave the president a plurality in excess of 450,000 votes. Breckinridge polled slightly less than 30,000.

GET WAGE BOOST

(International News Service)
WILMINGTON, Del., May 14.—Ten thousand salaried employees of the E. I. DuPont de Nemours and Company will receive a pay increase of approximately 10 per cent on June 1, it was announced by the company today.

The wage boost, according to an unofficial estimate will add more than $2,200,000 to the company's yearly payroll.

Secure Jury In Washington Case

Taking Of Testimony In Slaying Of Young Girl To Start This Afternoon

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., May 14.—A jury to try Robert Dreameer for the slaying of Thelma Young, 17, eight years ago was completed at the morning session of court today.

Jurors 11 and 12 were Theodore Dorman, a clerk, and J. Berns Baker, a salesman, both of Washington.

It was believed the two alternates required under a new Pennsylvania law will be quickly chosen and the taking of testimony will begin this afternoon.

VICTIM OF HATCHET MAN

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 14.—Assassinated and mutilated by a pitiless hatchet-man, the body of Kang Wang Woo, part-owner of a Far Rockaway Chinese restaurant, was found in his blood-spattered room near the restaurant today.

Minus clues, police immediately launched a search for "a beautiful American lady" reported to have accompanied Kang, a turf addict, to the Belmont Park race track yesterday.

Tombstones Toppled

Eighty three tombstones, some weighing between 1,000 and 2,500 pounds were toppled over, some of the smaller stones having been broken.

Roberts claims he had been working downtown consumed several bottles of beer. He started for home about 8:30 p. m. and was walking through one of the cemetery driveways when he claims he was obsessed with a queer notion to shove over tombstones.

Von Starhemberg Is Ousted From Austrian Cabinet

USE ARMED FORCE TO PREVENT COUP

Germany Is Anxiously Watching Situation Developing Across Border

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
VIENNA, May 14.—Vice Chancellor Prince Ernst Rudiger Von Starhemberg, exponent of Fascism in Austria, was ousted from the cabinet today and 16,000 members of the Freiheitsbund and Sturmsharen private armies were concentrated in Vienna within a few hours to prevent him from attempting a possible counter-coup.

The ousting of Starhemberg strengthened the position of Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg tremendously and was regarded as swinging Austrian foreign policy sharply toward collaboration with Britain and France.

Nevertheless, the government hastily informed Premier Mussolini and Premier Julius Goembs of Hungary that the cabinet shakeup meant no change in Austrian foreign policy, and that the Austrian government contemplated sticking to terms of the Rome pact.

The present government was seen as more monarchist than the previous one. It was pointed out the new vice chancellor, Edouard Barsensels, has long been an outspoken leader of the monarchist section of the Heimwehr.

Germany Anxious

Berlin, May 14.—Anxiously watching developments in Austria, Nazi official circles today forebodingly said "the show has just begun" following Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg's consolidation of power.

The little entente is even more nervous, according to information here, and well-informed circles predicted that troops of the entente would be immediately mobilized if any attempt were now made to place Archduke Otto on the Austrian throne.

In this event, Reich authorities stated, Germany would continue its policy of watchful waiting, letting the little entente—Czechoslovakia, Rumania, and Yugoslavia—struggle alone to solve the "Austrian problem."

Miss Mary McIlhinny's Body Recovered In Colorado—One Of Three Drowned

Friends here learn that the body of Miss Mary Faith McIlhinny, member of last year's graduating class at Geneva college, who was drowned in Colorado over a week ago, was recovered on Monday.

Miss McIlhinny, whose home was in Denver, had been teaching in a high school at La Junta, about 100 miles away, and, as a closing event of the school term, had taken her pupils for a picnic. While in a boat with a boy and girl, both of whom were honor students, a storm came up, the boat was overturned, and all three were drowned. The body of the girl student was found immediately but that of the boy was not recovered until last Sunday.

Miss McIlhinny was engaged to marry a college classmate, William Caven, of New Castle, who is employed at Denver.

Arrest Is Made In Cemetery Vandalism

Mystery of the tombstone vandalism at Greenwood cemetery, May 2, was solved late Wednesday following two weeks of exhaustive investigation by Lieutenants George Kennedy, Ray Shwalter, Detectives M. J. and J. Young, Lynch and Constable Jess Kennedy.

According to police Roberts confessed after which he wrote out an account of his activities that night.

Watches Replacement Work

Several days later when it was necessary for cemetery attaches to secure a derrick to move some of the larger stones back into position young Roberts went into the cemetery and watched them do the work, according to police.

Chief of Police Criswell stated that Roberts would be taken before an alderman today where Clyde Barry, in charge of the Greenwood cemetery would swear to an information against Roberts. A special act of legislature covers vandalism in cemeteries, according to the police chief.

Giant Dirigible Completes Trip

Makes Journey To Germany From U. S. In 49 Hours, 19 Minutes

(International News Service)
FRANKFURT-ON-MAIN, Germany, May 14.—Dr. Hugo Eckener, president of the Zeppelin Company, received a rousing official welcome today as he brought the giant dirigible Hindenburg home to its new base here after a record-breaking east-bound flight across the North Atlantic ocean.

The Hindenburg arrived here at 5:40 a. m. (12:40 a. m. EDT) and was tied up at its mooring mast at 5:55 a. m. (12:55 a. m. EDT). The dirigible left Lakehurst, N. J., at 11:21 EDT Monday, and her time for the eastbound crossing was 49 hours and 19 minutes.

The westward flight from Friedrichshafen to Lakehurst, N. J., the first commercial airship crossing of the North Atlantic, took 61 hours and 38 minutes, setting a record for the westward crossing.

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
GARY, Ind., May 14.—John R. Foster, a United States revenue agent, was shot and killed by one of two rum runners near St. Johns, Ind., seven miles out of here, today.

The rum runners, driving a black coupe at an 80-mile-per-hour pace, opened fire with a rifle when Foster and his associate, Guy C. Goodin, pulled alongside after a chase of several miles.

One bullet pierced the revenue agent's heart. Two others struck him in the leg.

Goodin said Foster, who was driving, slumped over the wheel, crying: "They got me."

Slayers Escape

Goodin grabbed the wheel and narrowly prevented the careening auto from being wrecked. While he brought the car under control, the slayers escaped.

Goodin hailed a passing auto and rushed Foster to a hospital at Hammond, where attendants said he was probably instantly killed.

The victim, who was 33 years old, was a native of Superior, Wis. Foster and Goodin had been operating.

Roosevelt's New Tax Plan Doomed

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 14.—The highly complicated $623,000,000 corporation tax provisions of President Roosevelt's new tax bill were doomed today when treasury experts reported to the senate finance committee that several substitute plans would raise the same revenue.

This information insured rejection of the presidential plan, since a majority of the committee is definitely opposed to it.

ROBINSON GETS LIFE TERM

Kidnaper Enters Plea Of 'Guilty'

Started For Atlanta Prison After Plea And Sentence Of Court

APPEARS DAZED BY SWIFT ACTION

(International News Service)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 14.—Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., manacled to a guard of deputy United States marshal, was enroute to Atlanta today to spend the remainder of his life in prison for the kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll.

One arm linked to a federal agent by a jangling manacle, the other linked through the arm of his mother, the 29-year-old kidnaper was led before Federal Judge Elwood Hamilton late yesterday.

"How do you plead?" the court asked after reading the indictment charging Robinson with abducting Mrs. Stoll and transporting her across a state line.

In an almost inaudible voice Robinson replied:
"Guilty, your honor."

"It is the sentence of this court,"
the judge intoned, "that you be confined for the term of your natural life in the penitentiary."

Thus, but 48 hours after his capture in Glendale, Cal., by federal agents, the erstwhile public enemy
No. 1 was prison-bound to expiate his crime against society.

Anticipating the guilty plea, authorities had made train reservations for Robinson and his guards several hours before the arraignment.

Robinson, former insane asylum inmate and one-time law student, seemed dazed by the swift moving justice.

Commerce, and, from all reports, the pledges are bringing results. If New Castle drivers resolve to make the city a safer place to drive, there is a strong possibility that New Castle may win from Evansville, Ill. the glory that city is now receiving as the safest of her class. Protection of human life is reason alone to make it safe, but the publicity that accompanies it tends to focus national attention in that particular direction. Keep up the safe driving!

With the sudden change in tem-

REVENUE AGENT SHOT AND KILLED BY RUM RUNNERS

ating in and near Lake county for several weeks, it was learned, and had been spotted by the underworld as "G" men.

Early today the two federal agents halted at a roadside near St. John.
A man was sitting at the wheel of a black coupe in the driveway. Inside the roadhouse, near the door, another man sat eating a sandwich, peering out the door frequently and apparently nervous.

Chase Begins
When the two federal men started to get out of their car, the man inside the roadhouse dashed out the door and leaped into the black coupe which went roaring down the highway.

Foster wheeled the agent's car around and gave chase.

As the agents' car pulled up on the black coupe, Goodin related, one of the men leaped from the auto, raised a rifle to his shoulder, and fired four shots in rapid succession.
The first two shots struck the left side of the hood of the revenue men's car, ripped through the metal, and lodged in Foster's leg. One of the other shots tore through the dash and struck Foster in the heart.

The slayers, Goodin said, were suspected of being Indianapolis rum runners.

Man's Stomach Swollen Twice It's Normal Size

The terrible thing about indigestion and "stomach gas" is that it often swells the stomach out of all natural proportion. Such was the case of a New Castle man who tells how his stomach felt as if it was blown up twice its normal size after meals. He suffered for years but recently he found the new, double-acting stomach alkalizer, called WHITE SWALLOW—the scientific formula of FOUR different remedies for the relief of common stomach distress. This man tells how he drew up his belt seven inches after WHITE SWALLOW relieved him. Says the gas bloating has gone and he doesn't have the awful burning in his chest and throat any more. Eats what he wants, without fear of indigestion.

Acts At Once
WHITE SWALLOW neutral-izes acids in the stomach, expels gas, relieves pain, bloat, swelling and headaches. Relief comes immediately. It is not habit-forming like soda; it is pleasant to take, and it settles the stomach at once.

Costs A Penny Best of all, WHITE SWALLOW costs so little; less than 1c a dose. Therefore, it would be a mistake to go on suffering. We are recommending this new, scientific remedy because we know it has helped so many.

Airport Again Up In Council

Councilmen Vote Down Move To Send Delegates To Capitals To Confer

BELIEVE MOVE IS UP TO GOVERNMENT

During council meeting at the city building today council by a vote of three to two voted down Councilman B. F. Butler's motion authorizing Councilman Joseph D. Alexander and City Engineer Glenn R.
Throop to go to Harrisburg or Washington in an effort to hurry
the start of the airport project.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath, Councilmen J. Leon Fink and J. Myron Rice voted against the motion. Butler and Alexander voted for the motion.

The discussion of the airport project was taken up after Captain Butler of the WPA had informed council of the WPA desire to start the A paving program. During the discussion, Captain Butler said that in his opinion he believed that sponsors of projects could obtain quicker action than local WPA officials from the higher-ups at Harrisburg or Washington. This statement was employed by the city councilman, Butler, in making a plea that the men be sent to the capitals.

Butler maintained that the farmers who had given the city options on their ground want action one way or the other and maintained construction of the airport would result in considerable employment.

Councilman J. Leon Fink said that when the airport does start it will cost the city $8,000, to which Butler retorted that the city would receive considerable in return through employment.

Charles E. McGrath maintained that the city has performed all that has been asked by the people and urged the airport and maintained that to send men to the capitals was another requirement.
He took the position that it should not be necessary for the city to do this in view of the city already having once qualified for the airport, for which the government promised to provide $162,000.

The mayor further stated that the people who had come to this city and urged the airport had promised that if the city qualified, that work would be started on the first day of sunshine.

Councilman Butler said, "If you want the airport, send them (Alexander and Throop). If you don't, let us drop it."

"We never have been able to force their (WPA) hand," Rice asserted.

Contacts Get Action
Alexander maintained the city had made personal contacts which got action, a statement to which exception was taken by Mayor Mc-Grath, who explained that "I'm speaking of what happened after the contracts were signed for projects."

He maintained no one had to go to Harrisburg to obtain the statement made by Captain Butler during council this morning.

Alexander maintained that the local WPA officials could not approve the "A" program of street paving and added, "We went to Harrisburg." (Today Captain Butler expressed the belief the "B" and "C" programs would be approved on the same basis as the "A" program.)

Councilman Butler reiterated the belief that the council should send representatives at the city's expense to Harrisburg or Washington, that such a move would result beneficially in employment and added:
"If we do not send representatives
I believe this council negligent."

Alexander asserted that council has always wanted work, to be done during summer months and that the airport if started, would require 600 men.

Alexander maintained: "It is up to us to take care of the Forgotten Men," explaining employment would bring taxes to the city, after which the discussion centered around who could and could not be employed on the airport job.

Mayor McGrath reiterated that to send anyone to Harrisburg would be another requirement exacted, that the city council having obeyed all the requirements asked by the sponsors, could not be held responsible for the failure of not getting work started at the airport.

Councilman Butler presented his motion. When no second was heard Councilman Alexander said: "I'll second it but not because I am delegated to go. You can send anybody," a statement echoed by Butler. On the roll call the motion was defeated three to two, as mentioned above.

"I'll find ways and means of getting to Harrisburg in an effort to put it across," Alexander declared after the discussion had been resumed.

Mayor McGrath said the starting of work at the airport would not take the men now walking the street, off the street. He maintained that the WPA had laid off 15 per cent of their force but not because of lack of city projects. He maintained the lay-off affected the entire WPA districts. He maintained the city has been endeavoring to have the WPA start projects in the city.

Engineer Throop said there were technical engineering questions to be taken up with other engineers that cannot be explained satisfactorily by letter. Council agreed with the mayor that the city had done nothing to stop the work starting at the airport. Throop said the WPA has a force of men engaged on airport plans which is costing them between $30.00 and $40.00 a day and that these men who are working under his direction are letting other project plans slide in favor of the airport. He suggested that the city decide one way or the other, relative to the airport.

"If you are letting the street plans slide I would say this is a mistake," the mayor declared.

"Wouldn't it be right and proper to accept the suggestion of the assistant administrator?" asked Butler. "We should accept it," he declared, adding that the national and state governments want to work with us."

The discussion ended and when Butler made a motion for council to adjourn it was seconded and passed with no councilman's authority having been given for the city to send men to Harrisburg or Washington.

Deaths of the Day

R. A. McClain Funeral Time.
Funeral services for Robert A. Mc-Clain, of Youngstown, O., will be conducted on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the King Funeral home, Wick avenue, Youngstown, with the Free and Accepted Masons in charge. The body will remain today at the residence on Bryson street.

Richard Breen Funeral
Funeral services were conducted this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Jeffersonville, N. Y., for the late Richard Breen, of New York City, and formerly of New Castle, who passed away on Monday evening following a week's illness.

He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Theodore Presenius;
a son, Richard J., and a sister, Mrs.
William Moore, all of New York
City. He leaves three brothers, John and James, of Ambridge, Pa., and William, of Baltimore, Md.

Lawrence Selig, Sr.
Lawrence Selig, Sr., aged 87 years, died at his home, 1513 Hamilton street, Wednesday night at 10:30 o'clock of complications following three weeks of illness.

Mr. Selig was born in Germany on March 18, 1849, son of Henry and Elizabeth Selig. He married Hannah Collar 61 years ago and was preceded in death by her. New Castle had been his home for the past 35 years; he was a retired tin worker and a member of the Lutheran church denomination.

One daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Mc-Chesney; three sons, Lawrence E.
Selig, Jr., John H. and George Selig, all of New Castle; four grandchildren, six great-grandchildren and one brother, Henry Selig of Freeport, Pa., survive.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the pastor of Bethany Lutheran church, Rev. Paul J.
Tau, in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. DiMarzio Funeral
Funeral services for Mrs. Lucia DiMarzio were conducted Wednesday morning at 9:15 from the family residence on South Mill street with later services in St. Vitus church.

Solemn requiem high mass was celebrated with Rev. Fr. N. DeMita of St. Vitus, as celebrant; Rev. Fr.
S. Ippolito, of St. Lucy's, as deacon, and Rev. Fr. N. Pirulli, of Hillsville, as sub-deacon, and Mrs. Lacko at the organ.

The funeral was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends.
There were many gorgeous floral tributes.

Interment was made in St. Vitus cemetery. James Leone, Joseph Guido, Frank Forcucia, Tony Celio, Dominick DeGennaro and John
Mazorca were pallbearers.

Melville Blake Funeral Time.
Funeral services for Melville Blake, of Mercer R. D. 8, young accident victim, will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the White Chapel church, at Indian Run, Mercer county, with the Rev.
Earl Thompson, of Volant, in charge.
Burial will be made in Neshannock cemetery.

Thomas McKissick.
Thomas McKissick, aged 74, of 102 Richelleu avenue, died in the Jameson Memorial hospital this afternoon at 12:55. Arrangements for the funeral have not been made and will be announced later.

PASS ORDINANCE
Council convened in the city building today and adopted an ordinance which appropriated $2-000 from general revenue for the purpose of paying the interest and taxes to November 1, on funding bonds of the City of New Castle.

Don't despair. Before the oil, timber and top soil are gone, some smart race like the Japs may take the country.

NEW WAY TO RELIEVE PILES

The agony and pain caused by piles (hemorrhoids) has at last been brought under scientific control. IRIIL suppositories the newest prescription for the relief of soreness, itching, burning and bleeding of this painful ailment, contain a combination of modern medicines which stops all pain within an almost unbelieveably few seconds. No narcotics, no harmful drugs. Pain gone and bleeding checked. Doctors who have passed on the formula of these new suppositories, pronounce them ideal for the purpose. Why bother with old-fashioned remedies, when this new, modern, scientific treatment gives such quick, sure relief from the agony and torture that accompanies piles?
IRIL is also made in the form of an ointment for the relief of itching, bleeding and burning of external or protruding piles.

IRIL suppositories, costing only 50¢ and $1.00 a box, and IRIIL Ointment at 50¢ a tube are sold by all druggists.

ties to believe it had been long planned. The convicts suddenly seized their guards when they are lined up for noon roll call in the prison brick yard. Brandishing crudely fashioned knives, they forced guards on the walls and at the brickyard gate to surrender their weapons, shouting:

"Throw down your guns or we'll

Snatching up the guns tossed at

Asks Safety Signs As Cascade Street

George D. Blair, Jr., of the Blair Strip Steel plant, today submitted to council at the latter's meeting in city hall, a communication in which the city was requested to provide a traffic blinker light and stop signs in Cascade street at Butler avenue.
He said the stop signs should be put in Cascade street. Blair informed council that more than 100 employees motor daily to the plant and that since Cascade street was resurfaced it carries considerable traffic and the situation at Butler avenue and Cascade street is hazardous. The letter was referred to committee.

The play is to be presented by students of the Brookwood Labor college, who are on tour at the present time. The board granted the use of the auditorium for a fee of $50.

NORTH BEAVER CLUB TO PURCHASE TREES

North Beaver Garden club, as an affiliate of the Garden Forum of the Lawrence County Area, will share in the project of planting cercis canadensis, or Red Bud, throughout Lawrence county, it being decided at the meeting Tuesday evening, to purchase a number of trees.

The regular May session was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Miller, Edenburg-Mt. Jackson road with a good attendance. Mrs. George Clark presided over the business period during which it was also voted to have a plant sale at the annual flower show to be held in the late summer.

For the program following, Earl Cox was in charge. Two very interesting papers were read, one on "Blooming Vines and Climbers for Practical Use" by Mrs. George Clark, and a second, "Lilies and De-wood" by Mrs. Dale Andrews.

A plant exchange featured, these being auctioned off amusingly, by Mrs. J. W. Brewster and Mrs. Harry Reed, for fun.

The next meeting will be in the form of a picnic on Friday, June 12, at Mill Creek Park, Youngstown.

WIMODAUSIS HOLDS CLOSING LUNCHEON

The last luncheon assembly for Wimodausis Club women this season, was held Wednesday afternoon in the Scottish Rite Cathedral with Mrs. William Koonce presiding as hostess. The event was attended by approximately fifty, and at the designated hour, each filled to their places at the banquet tables attractively arranged with clusters of the seasons flowers, where a sumptuous luncheon menu was served.

Following, a program of entertainment was presented, that delighted the assemblage. A large group of students of the George Washington Junior High school was introduced, and they gave a part of the opera "Pinafore" which will be presented in the school auditorium on May 26. Misses Betty Glover and Iva Mayberry, instructresses were in charge of the students, having directed the operetta.

A business meeting concluded the afternoon activities with Mrs. W. H. Shipley presiding. Suggestions were heard at this time, concerning the club picnic to be held sometime in June. Mrs. W. E. Harris was appointed chairman of the occasion.

EAKIN-WHITE WEDDING SOON

Thursday, May 28, has been chosen for the wedding of Martha Irene Eakin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Eakin, of Harlansburg, Pa., to Chester D. White, of New Castle, R. D. 6.

The ceremony will take place at 4:30 in the afternoon in the Harlansburg Baptist church. Afterwards, the young couple will depart on an eastern trip.

Miss Eakin is a graduate of the Jameson Memorial hospital and has been employed there for sometime. Mr. White is identified with the Lawrence Savings and Trust company.

FRIENDS HONOR DR. J. S. STEWART

Wednesday marked the 80th birthday of Dr. J. S. Stewart, one of New Castle's well known residents. To make the occasion more than ordinary, about 40 members of the Reformed Presbyterian church wended their way to his home at 709 North Mercer street, last evening as a surprise, holding the regular prayer service first, and then enjoying a social time.

Dr. Stewart has not been in good health for the past couple of years, seldom leaving the house, but he enjoys seeing his many friends when they call, and the combined spiritual and social evening to commemorate his birthday, was a lovely gesture of thoughtfulness on the part of the group.

The affair was planned by members of the O. C. Orr Bible class which the honored guest formerly taught, with a committee composed of Mrs. Joseph Riley, Mrs. Ella Jenkins, Miss Anna Dodds and Miss Margaret Pattison. They were assisted by Mrs. Clyde Tinsdale and Mrs. R. H. Pattison, who baked beautiful birthday cakes and had them iced in pastel colors.

Mrs. Stewart shared also, as a guest of honor, although she had been apprised previously, that the folks were coming, and had the house brightened with spring flowers.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Stewart were former missionaries representing the Reformed church who spent practically all their lives, after their marriage, in Syria. Their four children were born there, a daughter and three sons, and it is singular to note that in connection with their lives in a foreign country, that the three sons are now in foreign lands.

The eldest, Charles, is a missionary in India; Robert, the second, is in Egypt, with an oil concern; the third, James, and his wife, are in Jerusalem, where the former is also identified with an oil company.

The daughter is Mrs. Workman, wife of Rev. Workman, a chaplain in the U. S. army, stationed in the west. The children are all graduates of Geneva College, as were the mother and father. The youngest boy was educated by his father, never being in a public school until he came to this country and was entered in the second year class at high school. He was graduated with honors, class 1926.

Dr. Stewart received over 100 cards and greetings yesterday, representative of almost every state in the Union, and among them was a telegram from Egypt from the son, Robert. The day was most notable.

QUEEN ESTHERS PLAN TEA PARTY IN JUNE

American Queen Esther of the First M. E. church held a short business meeting on Tuesday evening, May 12, in the church parlors. Plans were formulated for a tea party which will be sponsored by the society sometime during the first of June.

Committees were named for this affair with Miss Peg Stoll being elected chairman of the entertainment committee and Evelyn McIVER assistant. The general committee will consist of the following: Elizabeth Lower, Elizabeth Slaver, Bettie Cole, Charlotte McIVER, Evelyn McIVER and Peg Stoll.

Next regular meeting will be held on June 4, in the home of Mrs. Vernon McQuiston, on the New Wilmington road. This will be in the form of a thirteen dinner.

R. And R. Club

A handkerchief shower honoring the birthday of Mrs. Clarence Gillespie featured the R. and R. club assembly Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Jesse Wilson, on Lorain avenue. Mrs. Gillespie also captured the card favor for 500 which entertained the group afterwards.

The hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. May Miliken, served a dainty repast. On May 27, the next meeting will take place in the home of Mrs. Clarence Bixler, Adams street.

Old Time Rebekahs

The Old Time Rebekahs had a tureen luncheon at the home of Mrs. Mae Sisley, Bleakley Block, Wednesday at noon. There were present twelve members and one special guest, Miss Dora Mae Eagan.

The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Laura Moser, Spruce street.

MRS. J. H. GIBSON FIELD CLUB HOSTESS

Mrs. J. H. Gibson presided as hostess over the dessert-bridge event held Wednesday afternoon at the New Castle Field club for the entertainment of its women membership, which was largely attended.

The leisure hours that followed the serving were spent in competing for card honors. Mrs. J. R. Rick and Mrs. Louis Sandler were announced the fortunate winners at the close of the game, each receiving a lovely prize.

In two weeks an afternoon party of the same nature will be featured at the club with Mrs. S. E. Patterson filling the role of hostess.

MOTHERS-DAUGHTERS BANQUET AFFAIR

Mrs. R. G. Eakins' Sunday school class of the First Christian church, held a mothers and daughters banquet Wednesday evening in the church dining room. The affair was in the form of a thirteen dinner and served at 6:30.

The table was decorated with beautiful spring flowers and each mother was presented with a corsage of flowers.

A toast to the mothers was presented by Miss Eileen Waite, and one to the daughters by Mrs. Eakin. A delightful banjo solo was rendered by Dawn Cartwright, and to climax the program a most entertaining reading was given by Anna Mae Fulkerson.

Hostesses for the evening were: Virginia Frederick, Marion Hickey and Mary Louise Hall. Those responsible for the beautiful decorations included: Eileen Waite, Gerry Covert, and Eleanor Johnson.

CALIFORNIA PEOPLE HONORED AT DINNER

Mrs. David Nelson, of Moody avenue, entertained a group of friends Wednesday evening at a dinner in honor of her houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace L. Earl, of Pacific Grove, California, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Fitzgerald, of Oakland, Calif., who are visiting Mrs. Jack Evans, in the seventh ward.

Mrs. Earl is Mrs. Nelson's sister. The Earls and Fitzgeralds are returning to California next week.

Several days ago Mr. and Mrs. Earl, Mrs. David Nelson and daughter, June Bliss, Mrs. Alec Rigby and daughter, Collette, and Mrs. Alfred Barber, of New Castle, enjoyed a reunion in Newton Falls, O., with Mrs. Nelson's brothers, R. E. and O. J. Halle. Another brother A. K. Halle, was there from Dundee, Mich.

Y. O. A. GIRLS CLUB AT J. A. PORTE HOME

Bridge occupied attention of the Y. O. A. Girls Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. J. A. Porte, Laurel boulevard. Mrs. Milton Marshall captured the high score prize at the close of the contest, and a period of chat ensued.

At a suitable hour, the hostess served a dainty menu of refreshments, at the dining room table which was attractively set in the season's suggestions. A concise business period was called, when plans for their next meeting were made. The date being May 27, with Mrs. Raymond D. Rhodes, Sumner avenue, hostess.

G. N. Club

Mrs. Antoinette Francis was hostess Wednesday evening to the G. N. club in her home on Division street. Mrs. Julia Sire was a visitor, assisting with an elegant luncheon served after a period of cards.

Prizes were captured by Mrs. Edith Semione, Mrs. Teresa DiBlase, Mrs. Christina Lombardo and Mrs. Barbara Coll, the latter drawing the club token. Music was furnished by Mrs. Edith Semione, Mrs. Christina Lombardo and Mrs. Clotilda Ross, who sang solos.

De-La-Kard-Klub

De-La-Kard-Klub members enjoyed the hospitality extended Wednesday evening by Jane Ingham who entertained in her home on Neshannock Boulevard informally at cards. Miss Virginia Gilbert was winner of the top score prize, and following play, the hostess served a dainty lunch. She was assisted by her sister Dolly with the menu.

On May 27, Mary Norton of Luton street, will be hostess.

TWIN DAUGHTERS ARE HONORED AT PARTY

Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock, Mrs. R. L. Shannon of McClelland avenue, entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Wood, 447 East Washington street, a group of little tots honoring the birthday anniversaries of her twin daughters, Carylian and Marylian, who became two years old.

Games and contests which appeal to youngsters were features of the afternoon, pretty prizes being won by Bruce McLaughlin and Beverly Jane Wood, the latter of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is visiting in New Castle.

A lunch that delighted the young ones, was served at a table appointed in gay colors with yellow and white predominating. A large cake graced the center, which was aglow with twin candles. Hankie favors were given each along with other mementoes of the occasion, as they departed for home. Mrs. Shannon was assisted in serving by Mrs. William McLaughlin and Mrs. William Wood.

Little Misses Carylian and Marylian were the recipients of a number of dainty gifts, in remembrance of the happy event.

EAST SIDE GARDNERS CONTINUE ACTIVITIES

Cercis canadensis, commonly known as red bud trees, will beautify a number of popular spots on the east side, as the East Side Garden club Wednesday, at its May meeting in the home of Mrs. Mary Robinson on Cumberland avenue, voted the purchase of 100 trees.

Spots designated for placement were Jackson Park, Margaret Henry Home, Almira Home, all the schools on the east side and other locations desired.

Another activity which the club is promoting is the beautification of spots in Jackson Park, the group recently buying three shrubs which will be planted around a bird feeding station as soon as City Forester Owen P. Fox can do the work. The station was built and donated to the club by J. A. Wilson and it will be set up in cement for greater protection.

The program theme yesterday was shrubs, the roll call being answered by members naming their favorites. There were two very fine papers, one by Mrs. C. R. Brenner on "Rhododendron-Forsythia", and a second one on "Dogwood-Azalea", prepared by Mrs. Katharine McEntire, was read by Mrs. Earl McKnight. An exchange of perennials featured.

Luncheon previously was the means of the group inaugurating a delightful afternoon. The table was especially pretty with a centerpiece of tulips in all shades. There were two special guests, Miss Elizabeth Barnett of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. Leroy Taylor, both of whom presided at the tea and coffee services.

The next meeting of the East Side club will be in the nature of a birthday party commemorating the third anniversary. The affair will be held June 10 at the home of Mrs. J. A. Wilson on Morton street, and special guests will include members of the East Brook Garden club, who will present the program. On the committee to perfect arrangements are Mrs. J. A. Wilson, Mrs. C. R. Brenner, Mrs. Harry Sturdevant and Mrs. Earl McKnight.

BIDE-A-WEE LASSIES AT LOVERIDGE HOME

Mrs. Stewart Loveridge proved herself a charming hostess when she entertained Bide-a-Wee Lassies in her home on Adams street, recently.

During the business meeting of officers for the coming year were elected. They are: president, Evelyn Van Buren; secretary, Madelyn Nicholson; treasurer, Mrs. Stewart Loveridge.

Plans were made for a motor trip to Greenville to be made in a short time. Following the business meeting, bridge and monopoly were the features.

At a late hour a dainty repast was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. C. L. Loveridge and Mary Loveridge.

Miss Peg Barnes invited the club to her home on Beckford street, on the evening of May 21.

P. H. C. Party

Members of the Senior P. H. C. entertained at a social event Wednesday evening in their hall, with a large assemblage participating. Cards and bingo featured the hours beginning at 8 o'clock. At 6:30, the Junior P. H. C. members held a short business meeting.

As the time progressed, prizes were awarded in the 500 contests, to the following: Ann Ponlan, Mrs. Mae McFarland, James Finnegan and Arthur Cowles. In bingo, Mrs. Mary Patterson, Mrs. Kathryn Cowles carried off the awards, while in the special bingo, Mrs. Eleanor Skundor, Mildred Rogers and C. Mays were winners. At the close of the evening, E. F. Salzman of Edenburg, R. D. 1, was named winner of the door prize.

The committee in arrangements, was composed of Mrs. Belle Kennedy, Mrs. Ray Hoover and Roy Erwin.

REAL PUBLIC ENEMIES

ONE excellent lesson to be drawn from the detection and arrest of Alvin Karpis, one-time Public Enemy No. 1, is that these much-publicized gangsters are not as courageous as commonly portrayed.

"We took him without firing a shot," casually remarked J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the G-men. "He was scared to death as we closed in on him. He shook all over—his voice, his hands and his knees. That marked him as a dirty, yellow rat."

Is anything more needed to justify Mr. Hoover's observation that the real public enemies are not the gangsters but the persons who connive with the underworld and seek to block the efforts of reputable prosecuting authorities?

Obviously, the dapper coward who kills from ambush and then cringes when confronted with the arm of the law is far less of a menace to orderly society than is the greedy partisan without whose protective influence the more serious depredations would be impossible.

STILL SEE OPPORTUNITIES

There is much talk these days about the last of frontier life in America. The contention is made that our great period of expansion is definitely ended. Hence we cannot hope to whip any depression.

On the contrary, however, we have just begun to blaze new trails, scientifically, socially, and economically.

Take the prospects that science alone offers. We are told that our autos are only 10 per cent developed, that we get only 5 per cent efficiency from our gasoline, that radio is, relatively, one day old and television, one hour.

Then think of the possibilities offered in bringing the average American home up to an efficient, modern basis.

Can anyone honestly evaluate these opportunities and still contend that our frontier days are over? Instead, it appears we have hardly started!

SELASSIE'S NEW HOME

A returned tourist who is not devoid of humor has observed that Europe is not a bad sort of place provided one does not move out of Switzerland. This opinion of the attractions of this little land would doubtless be of interest to Haile Selassie, who, by reason of circumstances beyond his control, has moved from the ancestral acres in Ethiopia and assumed the status of an exile.

Just now the former emperor is sojourning in Palestine. Then he will visit London and from there, according to prevailing reports, will move to "Flower Meadow," at Vevey, Switzerland, which he will occupy as his permanent home.

"Flower Meadow," we are given to understand, is a place of great beauty, with a twenty-one room villa on the shore of a small lake, with fountains, gardens, lawns and orchards. An enthusiast, probably the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Vevey, describes it as a "veritable paradise."

To our trained ear, it all sounds quite alluring and, having in our mind's eye the mud huts of Addis Ababa, the scorching summers sandwiched in between the "big rains" and the "little rains," we would hazard the opinion that Mussolini by making the change of residence compulsory has done Haile Selassie a great favor.

HARD COAL AGREEMENT

Happily for operators as well as for workers, a strike in the anthracite coal region has been averted, after nearly three months of negotiation that at times seemed on the verge of breaking down completely. Twice the White House and the Department of Labor intervened to hold the two groups together.

The terms of settlement were a compromise with the miners making the larger gain. While the latter contended for a thirty-hour week without a wage cut, the operators stood for a wage reduction estimated as in excess of 25 per cent. The agreement provides for a thirty-five hour week to begin in a year without affecting the miners' earnings, as well as for a complete check-out system in collection of union dues and assessments—and a modified equalization of work.

Aside from the government's efforts, there was a compelling factor weighing upon the two warring interests to effect a settlement. It was the realization, gained from the prolonged 1925-26 strike, that the break in supply could result only in further depressing the industry and giving permanent new footholds to competitors. The present conditions are bad enough from the inroads by other fuels.

The new contract is hailed by a union spokesman as "the most forward looking step in the history of the industry" for all directly concerned. The country will hope that is true.

THE CROWN OF FUTILITY

When the corpse is laid out, why delay the funeral? Post mortems over the League of Nations can not bring it back to life. It has already become obvious at Geneva that mere denunciations of Italy will accomplish nothing.

A refusal to recognize the Italian conquest with the pretense that Ethiopia still exists might create a serious diplomatic situation. Mussolini's withdrawal of the Italian representatives from the council is proof enough of this. He does not propose to be cheated out of the fruits of victory by academic condemnation.

It is perfectly true that the conquest of Ethiopia was accomplished in defiance of protests that were morally justified. The league could have done nothing less than oppose it. Perhaps it may hope to save its face by the so-called Stimson doctrine of non-recognition. Perhaps the difficulties ahead of Mussolini may yet make his triumph seem like Dead Sea fruit. But nothing can alter the fact that it is a triumph. The delay of final action for another month is little more than a subterfuge.

Nor is there much use now to discuss might-have-beens. The marked change in the attitude of France has come too late to be of much consequence. It is true that there is still a strong sentiment, especially among the smaller powers, for some association of nations that can settle disputes without the arbitrament of war. But it is clear that the league as at present constituted is a feeble instrument to this end. The derided principle of the balance of power was more efficacious.

Great Britain and France together can do more than any two other nations to preserve the peace of Europe, which is as much threatened by Hitler as by Mussolini. The rumor that the two dictators may get together is not altogether improbable. Though the league failed to save Ethiopia it may yet be possible to save Central Europe from Germany. But prompt and decisive action, lacking in the former case, is essential if the end is to be achieved.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

6 Babies In 3 Days.
The World's Great Terror.
Another Mild Bad Man.
The Airship Goes Home.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

PRESIDENT SACASA of Nicaragua confirms officially the statement that a very poor woman on the "distant shore of Lake Nicaragua" has given birth to seven babies.

The mother, Mrs. Sinfonora Martinez, had a difficult time, the births stretching over three days, May 3, 4 and 5. The babies' names are, or were, Jose Jesus, Ramon Del Carmen, Maria Del Carmen, Socorro Del Carmen, Maria De Jesus and Juana Ramona.

THE SEVENTH name was not telegraphed for there was no seventh, as it was expected there would be.

The names are all romantic, but unfortunately the right doctor and nurse are more important than names. Five of the sextuplets are already dead. Only one, a girl, lives.

WHAT WOULD population of the earth be if such births were the rule and all lived? In a century America would have five times China's population. Nature, cold and brutal, kills off the superfluous.

The shad lays forty thousand eggs, the female oyster lays millions of eggs in a year. The oceans would be a solid mass of eggs if all lived, but that does not happen.

AT THE opening of the Catholic Press exhibition in Vatican City, Pope Pius, for the second time within two days, cautioned the world against Communism, which he called "the great terror which threatens all the world."

At almost the same time, in Tokyo, the Japanese war minister, referring to Russia's military preparations, including 200,000 soldiers near the Japanese border, predicted an early attack, saying:

"Russia has not given up the plan to bolshevise the whole world."

FOR THE comfort of those that live in dread of a final Communist world-conquest, it may be said that thus far nothing opposed to human nature has ever succeeded.

"SO WHAT?"

That's a good pair of words. Not exactly sympathetic, I'll admit. . . . Not sentimental, either, nor soothing to your self-esteem. . . . But you can't deny that in those two words is tonic, rebuke and challenge.

You're moaning about your luck. You explain in great detail that if things had been just a little different ten years ago they'd be much different for you now. . . . You point out that your fate has surely been tough.

And just about then some thick-skinned fellow says to you: "So what?"

You talk about your health, how miserable you're feeling. . . . You make an inventory of all your aches and pains, your physical disabilities. . . . And then some rude individual asks you: "So what?"

You mention how sensitive you are, how spiritual. . . . You can compete in this rough and tumble world of today. You've got something exceedingly precious in you, but you bruise easily and in order to do your best you must have understanding and thoughtful treatment. . . . And some flip fellow jerks you up with those two harsh words: "So what?"

I could go on for pages with illustrations of how, right in the middle of our pathetic explanations, apologies and abilities, the tough world, having listened more or less impatiently wants to know "So What?"

And I'll admit it's very rude, indeed, of the world to ask "So what?" just when we are preparing the field for sweet words of pity, agreement and sympathy. . . . But there are times when sympathy can be a dangerous drug and pity can do more harm than good. . . . But when we ask for consolation, it is almost just the time when we shouldn't have it. . . . And the moment when we sit up and plead for a lump of sugar is the exact instant when the world should smile grimly at our antics and ask us:

"So what?"

Getting what is the right thing is generally received in advance. It's safer.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

WOMEN'S CLOTHES NOT PRETTY

Ask any man what he thinks of the clothing women wear today and he will exclaim "beautiful," "lovely," or something to that effect. Most women will agree with him and add that they are more than that—that they are "charming," "really divine," and so on. . . . But when we seriously consider women's clothes, are they really beautiful and charming? Of course they have always been essentially attractive, yet here is what Tobe, the international style authority and fashion counselor to many of our leading department stores, has to say about it:

"Women talk about clothes being 'beautiful' and 'lovely,' but a little thought quickly establishes the fact that women's clothes are not beautiful and probably never have been. If you look through the advertisements of a newspaper or magazine of five or six years ago you laugh and say to yourself: 'How did they ever wear such awful looking things!'"

But at that time you described those same things as 'beautiful' and 'lovely,' and laughed instead at the clothing of the decade before. Five years from now we shall do the same concerning the clothes of today."

Good Taste
By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR MISS MARKEL—I am a young girl and have just recently been permitted to go to dances with boys. They seem to expect me to kiss them "good night." I never know just how to treat this situation. Please give me some advice.

Answer—Do not cheapen yourself by allowing every Tom, Dick and Harry to kiss you—and then tell all the other boys of their conquest. If you fall really in love with a boy, that will be another matter. But do not be promiscuous and thus become the subject of gossip, for boys do tell. The girl who permits herself to be "petted" will, when she grows older, be ashamed of the experience.

The best way to treat such a situation is to pass it over facetiously—by making a light quip, such as "This is not my kissing day" or "I might some day."

A clever, tactful girl will maintain the interest of worthwhile boys without resorting to "petting." She will never find it necessary to reciprocate kisses for an evening's entertainment.

Dear Miss Markel—When one guest leaves and another remains should I see the departing guest to her automobile and leave the other one alone in the house? I am always puzzled when in such a situation.

Answer—If you have a servant, bid your departing guest farewell in your living room and let the servant take her to the door. If you have no servant, you will then have to show her out yourself, excusing your self for a few seconds to your remaining guest.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

The World At A Glance

Lehman Has Unique Role.
Both Parties Defeat Plans.
Is Friend Of Roosevelt.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

GOV. HERBERT H. LEHMAN of New York is in an odd position—for a banker. He has been trying to put through liberal legislation, and both Tammany Democrats and Old Guard Republicans have ganged up on him and defeated his program. Thus a banker, who happens to be governor, battles the side on which bankers customarily are supposed to be.

Stranger still, liberals do not count Governor Lehman as one of them. They wish for a "stronger, more liberal" man in the governor's mansion in Albany.

Yet, in spite of this opposition from both sides, Governor Lehman probably will be re-elected—he is counted as an uncanny vote getter—and his program will go through eventually.

TWO FRIENDS

Governor Lehman has two powerful friends—President Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith.

The governor succeeded President Roosevelt. And he is said to have given the most toward Al Smith's presidential ventures.

But he seems to have a power within himself that does not depend on powerful friendships. He is that phenomenon of a banker setting himself to a practical solution of social problems.

BILLS DEFEATED

Among the bills defeated this year by the New York legislature was the very important one of social security, which would permit New York to participate in the federal plan; divorce law reforms, and ratification of the child labor law amendment.

New York, like many another state, is suffering from overrepresentation from some districts and underrepresentation from many others. The overrepresented districts are in the hands of Tammany and the Republican Old Guard. And those two groups, holding the balance of power, will not redirect themselves.

UNIQUE FIGURE

Another unique figure in New York is U. S. Senator Robert F. Wagner. Although Senator Wagner is a member of Tammany, and Tammany is proud of him, he is considered one of the foremost liberals in the United States. He is termed an "idealist" by his political friends. Even President Roosevelt "lets him talk," but doesn't push the Wagner measures very hard, so the gossip goes.

But all the while Senator Wagner is gaining a tremendous following. He never can become president, for he was born in Germany (having been brought over as a child). He can, however, exert a powerful influence.

It is interesting to observe that Senator Wagner, whose housing bill now is having hard sledding, continues to make predictions of reforms.

Senator Wagner predicts passage of New Deal legislation to regulate wages, to provide minimum labor standards, to inaugurate government health insurance, to have relief responsibility definitely placed on the government, to make complete employment surveys, and to extend public health and child welfare services.

LEHMAN'S PLEA

Governor Lehman, pleading for his social security program, defied the opposition by making a "practical" plea in these terms:

"The social security program of the state brings our state laws into conformity with the federal act. The program will bring to the state and its municipalities about $20,000,000 of federal moneys.

"Through these federal grants and through a very moderate state appropriation which will be much more than offset by direct savings to our municipalities, we will be able to help hundreds of thousands of our needy, aged, sick, crippled and blind, through the following services:

"1. Provide financial assistance to dependent children.

"2. Extend old age assistance to men and women who reach the age of 65 years.

"3. Establish a state-wide system of financial and other assistance to the blind.

"4. Initiate services for the health of mothers and children, especially in rural areas.

"5. Establish and maintain adequate public health services.

"6. Provide medical, surgical, corrective services and care for crippled children.

"7. Promote local child welfare services, especially in rural areas.

"8. Expand vocational rehabilitation of the physically disabled.

"Can there possibly be any sound objection to our doing this? Can there possibly be any valid opposition to such a program?"

"It is inconceivable to me that any one should want to defeat a bill of such tremendous social consequences."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE IMPUDENT MOTORIST

Some city folks will go out into the country and picnic practically on a farmer's front porch, throwing rocks at the farmer if he gets in their way. Accordingly, a farmer came into the city very irate and entering a large store, addressed a dapper salesman with:

"I suppose it's true that you have 'Everything for the Home'?" The salesman didn't blink. "Sure," said he.

"Good!" said the farmer. "Have you any 'Keep Out' signs? By jingo, that made the salesman blink. 'I'm afraid not,' said he.

Score one for the ultimate consumer. Everything for the home, save its sanctity.

Notable Nativities—Bertie Charles Forbes, b. 1880, financial writer and editor. Frank Gillmore, b. 1867, president of Actors Equity Association. Bruce Rogers, b. 1870, famed designer of books. Julian Eltinge, b. 1883, actor. Albert Einstein, b. 1879. He was an obscure patient examiner in Bern, Switzerland, when he brought forth his celebrated theory of relativity.

Today's Yesterday, May 14, 1685—The first American president was chosen. "President of New England" was the title conferred by James II on this date upon Joseph Dudley, 38-year-old clergyman who went into politics and was sent to England for Massachusetts colony.

250 Years Ago Today—Gabriel Fahrenheit was born in Danzig, Germany, where, when he was 28, he first used quicksilver instead of spirits of wine for thermometers—then a century old—and established the thermometer scale named for him. He fixed his freezing point at 32 deg. to avoid negative measurements.

May 14, 1799—Jonathan Grant of Belchertown, Mass., had a telephone line operating between Boston and Martha's Vineyard, 90 miles away. Witnesses of the demonstration received answers to questions put to persons at the other end of the line in less than 10 minutes.

This, of course, was 45 years before Morse began operating his telegraph system, but it was seven years after Claude Chappe set up a system in France.

May 14, 1804—45 men led by Meriwether Lewis and William Clark (two Army officers in their thirties, left St. Louis to proceed up the Missouri Valley on the most epochal exploration expedition ever undertaken in the U. S.

The government had refused to appropriate more than $2,500 for expenses, and the expedition had to be financed by the American Philosophical Society.

Speed Up Machinery Preparing For Bonus

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 14—Federal machinery grinding out preparatory work for payment of the $1,924-000,000 soldiers' bonus slipped into high gear today—with the result that double checking of 10,000 applications daily is being accomplished.

Even this speed will have to be more than doubled if the 3,500,000 veterans eligible for bonus payments get their bonds and checks in the next mail after June 15, as scheduled.

Forces handling the big job checking the applications printed on big sheets by the veterans administration and from letters being prepared by the treasury, have been doubled since published figures indicated almost inevitable delay past the June 15 scheduled deadline. These forces are being added to daily.

Only about 15,000 of the application and forms have cleared thru the halfway post toward the final envelope in which the bonds and checks will be mailed to the veterans. It still seems, on the basis of simple arithmetic, an insurmountable task to complete the preparatory work in time.

At the present speed of 10,000 clearances a day, the present force can move just 270,000 applications on their way by June 15. That figure, plus the 150,000 already handled, represents a total of about one-sixth of the complete job.

Desk Sergeants At Police Station Are Kept On Jump

No one conversant with the situation will doubt the statement that a desk sergeant at police headquarters has a rather busy life.

He registers all calls to and from policemen on beats several hundred times daily and jots down reports of all kinds and complaints.

The complaints may range from chickens roaming through a garden or a dog uprooting bushes.

And among the calls today was one in which a woman reported that a cat was killing robins in her neighborhood.

The cat did not have a bell around its neck or the robin would easily have been warned.

In fact, tips also journey via telephone wire to police that sometimes result in the apprehension of desperate persons.

the guns are pointed the wrong way, "bad men" often change to good, meek and scared men.

The kidnaper, Robinson, made one mistake that may prove costly. In addition to kidnapping Mrs. Stoll, detectives say he "slugged" her, causing painful injury.

Under the law that makes kidnapping a capital offense, Government officials will, if possible, see to it that Kidnapers Robinson moves on to another world.

EARLY TUESDAY afternoon, flying east leaving Newfoundland behind, with favorable wind and engines working perfectly, Dr. Hugo Eckener, of the Hindenburg, hoped for an ocean crossing from Lakehurst to Berlin in 40 hours.

Today, "40 hours from Lakehurst to Berlin" seems a miracle of transportation. In coming years such "slow flight" will seem as strange as the old-fashioned four-in-hand coach.

As Dr. Eckener flew on his 40-hour trip over New Jersey and across the Atlantic, he flew over an earnest lady, "tooling" a four-in-hand from New York to Atlantic City, trying to make the run in 14 hours. At that speed the lady could cross the ocean, if there were a road, in 375 hours—and once that was the fastest travel.

Human nature wants to amount to and be something on its own account; it does not want to be a "comrade" with a number. It wants to be Mr. John Jones, Rotarian, or judge, governor, congressman, "socialite" or something.

THE ETHIOPIAN may change his kin and the leopard may change his spots, but human nature will not change to an acceptance of literal Communism, and what is more, before many years have passed, not long after Stalin shall have died, been embalmed and laid beside Lenin in Red Square, some Russian Napoleon will come along, throw them both onto the junk pile, with the crowd applauding, establish a throne and sit on it, in very fine robes and a gold crown, announcing "anybody who mentions Communism will be shot." That is human nature, and you may temporarily change laws, but human nature you cannot change, not in one day, or five centuries, at least.

BY THE arrest in California of Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., kidnaper of Mrs. Stoll, Mr. Hoover and his G-men brought into the shadow of the electric chair the last of the group of dangerous criminals wandering about the country.

Many Residents Will Go Abroad During Summer

Ocean Trip Vacations Planned By Large Number, Bookings Indicate

Trips to the British Isles and through continental Europe appear to be the way a large group of New Castle and Lawrence county residents will spend the summer. It was learned from ocean steamship booking agencies here today.

The Mediterranean countries and other picturesque lands will attract a few from this section, but not the number that Europe will.

Travel agency men pointed out that the 1936 travel will be "much heavier" than that of 1935 and warned that many of the larger steamships are reporting "full bookings" already.

It's going to be a big season for ocean travel, one booking agency reported. "New Castle and Lawrence county will have its share of travelers on the high seas."

Many of the local reservations are being made by former residents of foreign lands who are anticipating visits to their homelands, although others, traveling purely for pleasure, represent a large number of those who have made reservations or are now seeking accommodations.

Most of the local travelers will start abroad in June and July.

AROUND CITY HALL

Folks who earn their bread and butter in city hall and other municipal government branches here gradually are losing that worried feeling inasmuch as most of the important changes planned by city fathers already have been made. According to reports James E. Thomas to be succeeded by A. P. McIlwain as fire chief will become a lieutenant and George Harper to be succeeded by Earl Dart will return to a captaincy. They held these positions prior to their ascent several years ago. Chris Walker, who was succeeded by Charles Colnot as motor mechanics, has found employment with the department of streets.

Quite a number of persons have secured permits at 25 cents per form from the city health bureau to enable them legally to haul away rubbish from other peoples' residences. Some of them have trucks and others have wagons. The city trucks do not haul rubbish from any residence. They haul garbage and tin cans, and the latter as a "courtesy." Only one truck is devoted to this latter phase of the work. It operates daily.

Having received complaints from different sections of the city that speeding has been resumed Chief of Police Ralph Criswell proposes to have police jot down the numbers of the cars which operate in such a manner as to endanger lives and property. It is probable that when their identities are disclosed they will be summoned to police headquarters. The speeders, according to police officials, not only use main highways for this purpose, but also the cross-town thoroughfares.

Sylvan Heights golf course advisory commission had suggested to city council that the council and commissioners of Lawrence county enter into an agreement whereby the city may lease from the county a plot of land which will give the city jurisdiction over the plot. The committee claims the golfers are bothered by inmates of the county home who make away with balls then attempt to sell them to other golfers.

Nature evens things. A poor land makes the people hard, so they can lick the soft people of a rich land.

SIX O'CLOCK MEMBERS HONOR MRS. JENKINS

Among the delightful social events of Wednesday evening, is one in particular that proved a success and that was the party given by members of the Six O'clock Dinner club, honoring one of their number, Mrs. George S. Jenkins, it being her birthday.

The occasion was cleverly arranged, taking the honored one by surprise as they invaded her home on Junior High street at an early hour. As the club members filed in the front door, two special guests were included, Dorothy Cromie, sister of Mrs. Jenkins and B. E. Carlson. When the excitement had subsided, bridge was in play, Mrs. James E. Erhart and William Jones winning the prizes. Bingo was an additional feature, Mrs. John Morgan receiving the award.

To top off the program, Mrs. Walter Gilmore and Mrs. Frank R. Doyle served a delicious menu at the dining room table which was prettily decorated in an array of pastel colors. A large birthday cake, flanked with clusters of cut flowers and guarded on either side by tall tapers, was the center of attraction during the serving period. Mrs. Jenkins was given a beautiful gift at this time, in behalf of those surrounding her with Frank R. Doyle making the presentation speech.

Regular meeting of the club, is set for May 25, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. G. S. Jenkins, Junior High St.

Eight At Eight Club
Members of the Eight At Eight club were guests Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Alfred Barber on East Washington street, with Isabelle Johnson as a special guest. The hours were spent leisurely with cards, Virginia Kerber and Edith Sherbine winning the prizes, and later lunch was served by the hostess. As aides, she had Mary Elizabeth Norris and Miss Johnson.

Their next assembly will take place May 27 at the home of Miss Norris on Franklin avenue.

T. O. T. Club
T. O. T. club members were charmingly entertained in the home of Miss Coletta Preisel, Etna street, Wednesday night.

Cards, music and chat formed the chief pastimes of the evening with prizes won by Estella Wilson and Goldie Householder. Door prize went to Miss Anna Marion Critchlow. At an appropriate hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

In two weeks, Miss Catherine Ritchie, Grant St. will entertain.

RE-DELTA-DECK CLUB GUESTS WEDNESDAY EVE

Members of the Re-Delta-Deck club were entertained in a pleasing manner Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles P. Walther, Richelieu avenue. In addition to the usual assemblage, Mrs. Allan Booth shared as a special guest, and she was the recipient of a lovely hostess gift at the close of the evening.

In her bridge contest, it was discovered Laina Neime and Evelyn Bernine were winners of the honor score prizes. The serving of a tasty lunch followed, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Allan Booth.

On May 27, Mrs. Perry D. Rice of Richelieu avenue will entertain.

O. E. A. CLUB WOMEN HAVE SOCIAL MEETING

Three tables of cards held attention of the O. E. A. club women Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Jack Dunlap, Court street, who entertained at their usual bi-weekly event. Mrs. Elmer Tinsman and Mrs. Harry Hitchens captured the honor score favors.

In serving lunch afterwards, the hostess was assisted by her daughter, Grace. Places were set for the club group and two special guests which included Mrs. William Margraf and Mrs. Ralph Jordan.

Mrs. William Dukis invited members to meet with her on Park avenue, on May 27.

Edwards-Houston.
Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards of 102 East Reynolds street today announced the recent marriage of their daughter, Margaret, and Samuel A. Houston, son of Mrs. Jennie Houston of Pittsburgh, formerly of this city.

The ceremony took place on January 11, 1935, at Wheeling, W. Va., with the Rev. Ben F. Donley officiating. The bride was graduated from the New Castle high school, class of 1934. Mr. Houston is employed by the American Sheet & Tin Plate company. The newlyweds will reside in New Castle.

Rachel Rebekah Team.
Rachel Rebekah degree team will hold the regular monthly meeting in the I. O. O. F. hall, East Washington street, Friday evening. After the business session there will be an informal time with Mrs. Kate Stanley and Mrs. Sadie Parks hostesses.

BIRTHDAY HONORED BY JEDEMA MEMBERS

At the meeting of Jedema club members Wednesday evening in the home of Martha Jane Hordler on Matilda avenue, a special celebration was held honoring the birthday anniversary of Mildred Crabbil which fell due this week.

The social period was spent leisurely with cards, with Miss Crabbil and Roberta Hordler winning the prizes. Afterwards lunch was served by the hostess at a table appointed in keeping with the birthday motif. A large cake topped with candles, adorned the center and novel favors in addition to clusters of the season's flowers, further carried out a color theme of pink and white.

A short business period was conducted when the group welcomed Margaret Kennedy into the club as a new member. On May 27 Thelma Richards of Grant street, will entertain.

Coyne-Caiazza Wedding

On Monday, May 11, in St. Mary's church, Julia Ann Coyne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Coyne of West Washington street extension, became the bride of Tully J. Caiazza of Phillips Place. The Rev. Fr. Leo Watson officiated in the presence of members of the families of the couple and a few close friends.

The bride was becomingly attired in a creation of London tan, trimmed with chartreuse green, and was attended by her sister, Margaret Coyne, who wore an ensemble of chartreuse green with London tan accessories. John McNicholas served the groom as best man.

A wedding breakfast supplemented the ceremony, served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coyne, the former a brother of the bride, on West Washington street. Appointments of pink and white predominated, the bridal motif prevailing in all details. A large three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom formed the centerpiece. Mrs. Norman Hanna, sister of the bride, assisted in serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Caiazza are on a few days wedding trip, having left Monday evening, their destination being unrevealed.

W. M. L. H. Club Guests

Associates of the W. M. L. H. club enjoyed the meeting held Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Emma Blews, Hillcrest avenue. Cards formed the main pastime. Mrs. Joseph McCaskey, Jr. receiving the award. As a concluding feature, the hostess served an appetizing collation with Freda Ungar assisting.

Plans were completed to hold a dinner party at the Kauffman House in Zelenople on Wednesday evening, May 27, at 6 o'clock, instead of the regular event.

P. G. C. Club

Miss Elizabeth Ungar and Mrs. Adolph Lang were fortunate at cards Wednesday evening, winning smart favors at the meeting of the P. G. C. club in the home of Mrs. Michael Welter, Grant street.

Miss Rose Saunders assisted with refreshments. The next meeting was planned for Tuesday evening, May 26, in the home of Miss Elizabeth Ungar, Sampson street.

BE FRANK! ARE YOU EASILY EXCITED?

There are two general types of people. One is the calm, stoic type that never gets excited very much about anything. Then, there is the sensitive type that is easily upset or excited, and suffers from high nerve tension, which is just another name for nerve pains such as headache and neuritis.

If you are the latter type—if an unusually busy day, or worry, or emotion causes a nervous headache, you will find Capudine just made to suit your needs. Two teaspoonfuls of Capudine in a little water will quickly soothe the tense nerves, relieve the headache, and bring welcome relaxation. Capudine is gentle and contains no narcotics. Try it today. If you don't prefer it to everything else, your money will be cheerfully refunded. 60c, 30c, 10c sizes. (Adv.)

TUSCANO-ROSELLA WEDDING IS TODAY

Attired in a lovely white satin gown, made on princess lines, veil of real lace which was caught with a cluster of orange blossoms, and an arm bouquet of calla lilies, charming Rose Tuscano, daughter of Pasquale Tuscano of 803 South Mercer street, was an attractive bride for her marriage to Augie Rosella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvio Rosella of 222 East Division street. The ceremony was performed this morning at 9:30 o'clock in St. Vitus church, with Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMitta officiating.

Miss Tuscano was given in marriage by her father. Miss Edith Vitell of 115 East Home street, an intimate friend of the bride, as maid of honor was attractive in a beige chiffon gown with orchid accessories. Angelo Colella, one of the groom's closest associates, served as best man. Winsome Mary Carmen, the bride's niece, was flower girl and Vincent Russo was ring bearer.

Following the ring ceremony a delicious wedding dinner was accorded the bridal party, in the bride's home, 808 South Mercer street. Others present at the dinner included immediate members of the two families and a few invited guests. A reception will be tendered Mr. and Mrs. Rosella this evening at 203 South Mercer street. Late tonight the newlyweds will depart for an extended honeymoon in Cleveland and other points of interest. Upon returning, they will be at home to their friends at 222 Division street.

Among the out of town guests present were Miss Madeline DeSantis, Frank and Bob DeSantis, all of Monongahela, and Carmen Tuscano of Girard, O.

HE WAS HELPED IN A WONDERFUL WAY

Man States World's Tonic Gave Him A New View Of Life

"For just about five years I felt myself slipping down hill in health," said Mr. John DeLorenzo, who works at Ambridge, Pa. "Just one thing after another seemed to be ailing me. I started with a cold, caught one after another. Then my stomach began to act up on me. I belched gas and felt bloated after every meal. Soon I got so bad that no solid food would agree with me if I could get it to stay on my stomach. Then my liver got so sluggish that I was bilious all the time. My tongue was coated and I had a bad taste in my mouth; my breath was bad, my skin was yellow and my eyes looked so tired my friends began to comment on it. I was troubled with constipation and in the mornings when I woke my back ached so much over the kidneys that I had to move around in bed and loosen it up before I could get up. I was in bad condition that was getting worse rapidly instead of being relieved by the medicines I was taking. Finally I quit them in disgust. It was bad enough to be sick all the time without wasting the little money I had on treatments that did me no good."

"One of my nephews came over to visit me. He was shocked by my appearance, and after he had asked me about my illness he said unless I did something soon he would have to come back before long to help bury me. That sounds pretty brutal, but I guess it was justified. Anyhow, that night he brought home a bottle of World's Tonic and began taking this wonderful new medicine. "Since then I have noted the steady improvement in my condition that World's Tonic has brought about and I have a new view of life. While it has been only a few weeks since I took my first dose of World's Tonic, the improvement has been so perfect that I know shall get perfectly well in a few more days. My pains over my kidneys are all gone; my stomach forms no more gas, and I can eat a meal and not suffer afterwards. My strength is rapidly coming back, and instead of feeling like an old worn-out husk I am ready for any reasonable work, and I am sure that in two or three weeks more I can tackle anything I ever could, thanks to this Wonderful World's Tonic. This medicine, which has obtained a remarkable reputation in this community, is sold by Eckerd's, Paisley's and all other first class drug stores. (A-59)

Lewis' Plan Is Given Approval

Amalgamated Association Votes
In Favor Of Industrial Union Proposal

(International News Service)
CANNONBURG, Pa., May 14.—Substantial acceptance by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers of John L. Lewis' plan to organize the American steel industry along industrial lines today swung the eyes of labor from Cannonburg to Washington—where action is certain to be reflected in widespread repercussions in national labor and political circles.

After almost three weeks of heated debate on the merits of the Lewis proposal, which is that all steel workers be urged to join Amalgamated regardless of what their job, trade or craft may be, as compared to a plan put forward by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, for a campaign of organization which would maintain Amalgamated's craft union status, delegates to the association's convention here voted to accept the Lewis plan.

The vote was by a count of 53 to 31.

At the same time, the convention selected Chicago as the union's 1937 convention city. Dover, O., and Cincinnati, O., had also been under consideration.

Contracts Are Let For School Supplies

Huge Quantities Of Paper, Pencils, Etc., Ordered For New Castle Schools

Contracts for pencils, paper, crayons, cardboard, ink, thumb tacks and the various other supplies needed for the school system during the coming year were authorized Wednesday night when the board of directors accepted the report of the Text Book and Supply committee. Two lots of supplies were recommended, one for $4056.67 and one for $786.70.

Included in the orders will be a tremendous amount of small items. Approximately 6000 reams of paper will be used, 400 boxes of chalk, about 25,000 book covers, 140 gross of pen points, about 3000 dozen tablets, nearly 500 gross of pencils, hundreds of knives, palettes, brushes, and the like.

The committee went over the samples of materials submitted, checked the prices and selected the companies from which they wanted to order. The board accepted the recommendations.

Hi-Y Banquet Will Take Place Friday

Dr. J. J. McIlvaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will be the principal speaker at the first annual "accomplishment dinner" of the seven school Hi-Y clubs of the Y. M. C. A. in the banquet hall of the "Y" on Friday evening, May 15.

Almost 100 Hi-Y members and invited guests will take part in it.

SOUTH SIDE BOARD MEETING WEDNESDAY

This month's meeting of the South Side Board of Trade, held in the Knights of St. Vitus clubrooms, Wednesday night, was in the form of a dinner meeting.

Following a delicious spaghetti dinner, in the St. Vitus church dining room, the group convened in the Knights of St. Vitus clubrooms. The organization passed a resolution sanctioning a petition calling for the improvement of a stretch of road in West Pittsburgh, from P. & L. E. station connecting Route 18. The South Side Board meets again on June 3.

Music Council May Be Formed

Proposal Is Made To School Board At Session On Wednesday Night

Formation of a music council, similar in purpose to the athletic council may be formed in the New Castle public schools following the appearance before the school board Wednesday night by Attorney J. Elder Bryan and Mrs. C. R. Brenner representing the Parents-Citizens Music Club.

Mr. Bryan explained that many of the parents felt that a music council which would supervise the extra curricular activities of the school musical departments would be of vast usefulness to the schools.

"When the bands or orchestras or other musicians make trips to other cities for the purpose of contest, the expenses have been met by contributions of the citizens," said Mr. Bryan. "In every month of the year there are requests for the use of school musicians by various organizations. We feel that with a music council functioning some arrangements could be made whereby some small fee might be charged for such appearances and these fees saved towards the time when expense money was needed."

"It is not the purpose of the people suggesting a music council to pre-empt the duties of the school board but merely to act as an assisting agency."

President Daniel B. Woodcock was authorized to appoint a committee to investigate the feasibility of the plan and appointed Grifff Thomas, A. C. Hyde and J. H. McIlvaine as the committee.

Ice Skating In City Proposed

Two Fields May Be Flooded In Winter To Provide For Sport For Children

Ice skating under the supervision of the school system may be possible in New Castle next winter. On Wednesday night school directors A. C. Hyde and W. F. Jackson presented a report in which they recommended the flooding of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school practice field and Boyles Field on the north hill.

In presenting the report the directors said, "skating inside the city is almost impossible nowadays and we believe it is a sport that should be encouraged. Our plan is to dig a small trench around the fields mentioned, flood them, and charge a small fee for the privilege of skating. Portable school buildings could be used for the changing of skates."

It was suggested that the plan could be tried on one field and if it worked, others could be added. The matter was referred to the athletic council for specific recommendations.

Convention Opens At Pentecostal On Wednesday Evening

Wednesday night a missionary convention, which will probably be one of the best the local church has ever had, was opened in the First Pentecostal building, Pearson and Epworth streets.

Rev. Russell Plants, a missionary to Egypt, told many interesting facts about the land of Egypt and the Mohammedan religion, contrasting the latter with the Christian religion.

Rev. Charles Seales, of China, offered a medley of old time hymns on a violin, accompanied by Mrs. Boston W. Turner, wife of the local pastor, at the piano.

Tonight Rev. B. E. Tanner, of Africa, will be the speaker. Rev. Russell Plants will give vocal solos in the ancient Arabic language.

Missionaries At Alliance Church

Rev. H. L. Pierson, of French Equatorial Africa, will speak at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, Pearson street, Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

On Sunday morning and evening, guest speakers at the church will be Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Newbern, of South China.

BAND UNIFORMS TO BE CLEANED

Secretary John B. Bechtel of the school board was authorized by the board Wednesday night to secure prices on the cleaning of the 85 uniforms used by the senior high band.

A request of the superintendent of buildings and grounds for 96 locks to be used in the senior high school laboratory was referred to the committee on buildings and grounds.

Christian Church Delegates Gather

District Convention At Enon Valley; Rev. T. B. Shearer,
New Castle, Named
Officer

Rev. Glenn Carpenter of Beaver was elected president and Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, pastor of Central church, New Castle, was elected first vice president at the annual convention of missionary district No. 2. Christian churches, which took place Tuesday at the Enon Valley Christian church.

Other officers named were Rev. E. G. Aubrey of Ellwood City, second vice president, and Mrs. Mary McGarry of Butler, secretary and treasurer.

An invitation from the Butler Christian church to have the convention next June in Butler was accepted.

Large delegations from Christian churches of Butler, Beaver, Beaver Falls, Ambridge, Ellwood City, Chewton and New Castle attended the convention.

Rev. George Massey of Beaver Falls was the presiding officer. A splendid address was made by Rev. H. A. Denton of Pittsburgh, who is the state secretary. Rev. E. G. Aubrey of Ellwood City delivered the annual sermon. Virgil Sly of Indianapolis, Ind., presented the unified program cause, while Mrs. Anna Garver of Cleveland, O., presented the work being done by the Cleveland children's home.

Green of Bethany, W. Va., gave a very splendid address on the educational advantages of old historical Bethany college, Bethany, W. Va. Edwin Marx, a returned missionary from China, offered an inspiring missionary address.

The Enon Valley church was a pleasing host to the delegates. A meeting of the newly elected officers is to be conducted in the near future, in order to make plans of vital interest to the churches.

Police Given Permit To Use Stadium

School Board Grants Use Of Ben Franklin Stadium For Boxing Show

Upon petition of L. Ray Showalter, Sergeant Grover C. Syling and Officer Thomas Jones, representing the police of the city, the New Castle school board on Wednesday night granted the use of Taggart stadium for a benefit boxing program some time in July, the date to be set later. A fee of $30 will be charged to cover the expenses of the stadium for the evening.

The officers told the board that it was their plan to raise funds to get their pension fund started and that the stadium was the logical place to hold an outdoor show. "There is one thing they must not do," said Mr. Hyde, who is on the athletic council, "and that is place the ring or the chairs upon the grass. We don't want that grass ruined for the football season."

The board decided that the ring must be placed within the confines of the running track and that no ringside seats could be placed on the west side of the ring, which would be on the grass.

NEW AIR MAIL MAP OUT

Street Paving To Start Next Week

W. P. A. Official Tells Council That Organization Is Ready To Begin Work

Captain Francis Butler, assistant administrator of district 14, WPA, today appeared in council meeting and informed city officials that the WPA proposed to start the A program of street paving here next week and invited the city to submit the B and C program of street paving. He expressed the belief that these latter programs would be approved on the same basis as the A program which according to estimates will cost property owners $1.65 per foot front. There are approximately two dozen thoroughfares in the three programs.

The official said the WPA has made arrangements to secure a roller then added that Martin street sewer work has been resumed and within a short time the construction of the Butler avenue extension wall will also be started.

Captain Butler explained that any differences that may have existed in the past should be forgotten. He said that no individual was to blame for delay and instead the delay could be ascribed to red tape.

His information was received by council in a hearty manner and at the conclusion of which Mayor Charles E. McGrath thanked Butler for visiting council and colleagues expressed their desire to cooperate with the WPA.

SCHOOL CENSUS ENUMERATORS TO BE NAMED SOON

Enumerators who will take the annual school census were authorized Wednesday night by the school board at the regular meeting in the East street administration building. Nine enumerators will be employed. The rate of pay is five cents per name of every school child taken.

TO SECURE SCHOOL TRUCK

Bids for a 1 1/2 ton truck will be asked by the New Castle School Board under authority given Wednesday night by the board. The present truck used by the school system is about worn out and will be replaced for the summer work.

Six venetian blinds will be placed on the windows of the administration building and materials and equipment for the science and mechanical drawing departments will be asked for.

New Methods For Teacher Selection Installed Here

Improved methods of teacher selection are being used throughout the United States at the present time and in order to give the public school here the benefit of the improved methods, Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent has installed the method. In a report to the school board Wednesday night Dr. Green submitted a copy of the new teacher's application to be board for their study.

While factual records showing marks made in college are important the new method of selecting teachers goes deeper than that. Personality, intelligent quotient, attitude towards authority, these and many other questions are a part of the blank. The board suggested that Dr. Green use the new method for a term and then report whether or not it had been satisfactory.

If you feel tired, run-down, nervous and out of sorts

There is usually a definite reason for such complaints . . . so, now let's reason sensibly.

Don't try to get well in a day . . . this is asking too much of Nature. Remember, she has certain natural processes that just cannot be hurried.

But there is a certain scientific way you can assist by starting those digestive juices in the stomach to flowing more freely and at the same time supply a balanced mineral deficiency the body needs.

Therefore, if you are pale, tired, lack a keen appetite, have lost weight and feel rundown . . . a frequent sign that your blood-cells are weak, with a tendency towards anemia—then do try in the simple, easy way so many millions approve—by starting a course of S.S.S. Blood Tonic.

Much more could be said—a trial will thoroughly convince you that this way, in the absence of any organic trouble, will start you on the road to feeling like yourself again. © S.S.S. Co.

May Day Pageant At Grove City On Saturday Afternoon

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, May 14.—Two hundred co-eds of Grove City college will present the annual May Day pageant on College field Saturday afternoon, in a spectacle arranged and drilled by Miss Esther Post, women's athletic director. The theme is the ancient Greek games, and 140 Grecian costumes have been completed for the production.

Miss Gail Dennison of Falls Creek, as May Queen, will preside at the contests, and crown the winners. The usual procession and coronation will precede the games. The entire spectacle will be carried out in Grecian lyrics, dances and costumes.

Saturday will also be observed as the annual Parents' Day, which will include a full program in addition to the formal laying of the cornerstone of the new Mary Anderson dormitory for women.

Auxiliary Has Special Event

Twentieth Anniversary Of Mabel Wilson Auxiliary
Held On Wednesday

Guests from Youngstown, Sharon and Niles were present at the 20th anniversary meeting of this chapter of the Mabel Wilson auxiliary, held Wednesday evening at the Eagles hall on Jefferson street.

The events of the evening opened with a 6 o'clock dinner at the Elks' club. Places were laid for 50 guests. Red, white and green formed the color scheme in the decorations. Beautiful bowls of white roses centered each of the long tables, and made the setting a most festive one. Tiny miniature birthday cakes with one lighted candle marked each place, as did the small candy favors.

Mrs. Sadie McKee, a member of the grand executive board and nine charter members were seated at the table of honor, and presented with lovely bouquets at the end of the dinner. Testimonials and remarks were heard from the charter members, concerning the organization of the chapter 20 years ago.

Regular lodge followed at the Eagles hall. Seven candidates were initiated in a class during the meeting. The charter members were presented with 20-year pins for service and also with pictures of Mabel Wilson, the fifth vice grand president and organizer of the Mabel Wilson auxiliaries.

The committee in charge of the dinner included Mrs. Rose Moore, Mrs. Anna Hofer, Mrs. Hazel Grimm, Mrs. Edna McConnell, Mrs. Mary Metzlar and Mrs. Winifred Cooney.

The next meeting, on May 27, will be in the form of a sunshine party. The committee, Mrs. Elizabeth Harper, Mrs. Mildred King and Mrs. E. M. Johnston.

Spring Tea Event Enjoyed By Class

Members of the Loyal Workers class of the Madison Avenue Christian church entertained 75 guests at a spring tea Tuesday evening in the church dining room.

The setting was very colorful with decorations being carried out in rainbow tones. Small May-poles centered each table and tiny candy corsages were given as favors and marked each guest's place. After refreshments were served the following program climaxed the evening:

Clarinet solo—Howard Snyder.
"The Cat's Meow" (skit)—Mrs. Kenneth Walter, Betty Walter and Mrs. C. H. Clark.

Musical selection by Russel Lee Horchler and Raymond Horehler, Jr. "Breakfast" (skit)—Betty Walter, Virginia McGrath, Doris Bevan, Delphine Jones, Steve Hutnick and Robert Parks.

"Truant Husbands" (skit)—Mrs. Steve Hutnick and Mrs. C. H. Clark.
"Hook, Line and Sink" (skit)—W. G. Wilkins and C. H. Clark.

Mrs. Kenneth Walter was the chairman of the dining room committee and Mrs. C. H. Clark was in charge of the entertainment.

Slippery Rock High Graduation Plans Complete

Class Of 39 To Receive Diplomas On Friday Evening, May 22

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., May 14.—"Citizenship" will be the theme of the high school commencement exercises to be held in the college chapel Friday evening, May 22, according to an announcement of A. B. Denniston, principal. Dr. Charles S. Miller will deliver the address of the evening. William Offutt and Charles Miller, honor students, will give orations on phases of "Youth Citizenship".

The program will also include a violin solo by William Ewing, a song by Eleanor Lechner, and readings by Josephine Mackey and Eileen Heasley.

In addition to the awards which are usually given at commencement, citizenship awards are to be presented to the two most outstanding citizens of the senior class. The identity of these two outstanding citizens will be determined by score sheets to be filled out by each member of the class.

The Rev. J. Harvey McCormick, pastor of the First U. P. church, will deliver the sermon at the baccalaureate exercises to be held May 17. Class day exercises will be held Thursday morning, May 21, at 10 o'clock in the college chapel.

Thirty-nine seniors will be graduated from the local high school this year. The five who stand highest in scholarship are: William Ewing, Eileen Heasley, Josephine Mackey, Charles Miller and William Offutt (named arranged alphabetically).

The class officers are John Patterson, president; Jean Pearce, secretary, and Tom Patterson, treasurer. Herbert Book is the class adviser.

Notice To Public

There appeared in a recent issue of this paper a signed statement of George F. Lehberger impugning the business dealings of Daniel Murphy with him, implying that Daniel Murphy was obligated to him for services performed in the development of a pump now being marketed, and upon investigation, Mr. Murphy said that the statements of George F. Lehberger were not true, and that Daniel Murphy is not indebted to him, and repudiates said article.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass 2 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

Ask Teaching Of Bible In Schools

In a communication to the school board Wednesday night, Superintendent C. C. Green stated that recently a committee of ladies had called upon him asking that the Bible be taught in the schools as an elective subject. In replying Dr. Green quoted the Pennsylvania School Code which provides for the reading of the Bible in the public schools but prohibits the teaching of any sectarian principles or the commenting upon or interpreting the verses in the Bible.

For this reason Dr. Green stated in his report to the board that it was impossible to pursue any other course than the one now being pursued but he did suggest that the people interested operate summer Bible schools.

Memorial Day Plans Advanced

Committees Discuss Arrangements For Annual Celebration At Meeting Last Evening

PROGRAM NOW IS NEAR COMPLETION

Plans for the annual celebration of Memorial Day were discussed by the various committee heads at a meeting in the Legion home last evening, presided over by Dr. A. B. Foster, general chairman.

It was announced that Judge James A. Chambers will deliver the Memorial Day address at the program on Memorial Day morning in the Penn theater, and that the other plans for the day are practically complete. There will be the customary parade to the theater and thence to Greenwood cemetery, where the concluding exercises will be in charge of Col. Daniel Leasure Camp, United Spanish War Veterans.

The Sons of the American Legion will have a part in the program and will take charge of strewing the flowers on the graves in the Civil War plot at Greenwood cemetery. The graves of all the veterans of United States wars in the various cemeteries of the community will be decorated by the different veteran organizations on Thursday evening, May 28, preceding Memorial Day. The final meeting to check up on plans for the celebration will take place Wednesday evening, May 27, at the Legion home.

Large Crowd At St. Vitus Dinner

Twenty-Fifth Annual Event Will Be Continued Tonight, Starting At 5 O'clock

Miles and miles of delicious spaghetti were served to a crowd numbering close to 1,000 persons in attendance at the opening of the twenty-fifth annual St. Vitus church dinner, Wednesday. The occasion, which will be continued this evening, starting at 5 o'clock, is being held in the St. Vitus church dining room.

From 5 until 9 o'clock, a corps of women were busily engaged preparing and serving the famous Italian food. Judging from last evening's attendance, this year's event will be one of the most successful in the history of the South Side church. The Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, is chairman. Assisting him on the executive committee: Mrs. Mary Conti, Mrs. Sam Peluso, Mrs. Mary Biondi, Mrs. N. Maciarelli, Mrs. Lena Cialella, Mrs. Angelo J. Casaccia, Mrs. A. Scarazzo, Mrs. Frances Colo and Mrs. John Mast-rangelo.

College Talent To Give Program

Westminster Students To Sing At New Castle High School Friday Morning

New Castle senior high school will be host to Westminster college during an assembly beginning at 10:45 Friday morning, at which time the college will present an hour program.

President R. F. Galbreath of Westminster college will open the assembly with an address to the students. He will be followed by a mixed chorus concert under the direction of Professor Alan B. Davis, director of the conservatory of music; the Girls' Glee Club under the supervision of Miss Ada Peabody of the Conservatory; and the Girls' Trio, with Earl Johnson, Erie junior, as director, accompanist, and arranger.

One of the features of the musical program will be Johnson's original musical number, "Shadow Fever".

PLAY AT SLIPPERY ROCK
SLIPPERY ROCK, May 14—The Shakespearean classic "As You Like It" will be presented at State Teachers' College, Slippery Rock, on May 14, at 8 o'clock.

The play will be staged directly in front of North Hall—the setting used for the "Nutcracker Suite" last spring.

Two Hospital Trustees Named

GROVE CITY, May 14.—R. E. English and R. G. Walters are the new trustees of the City hospital for three-year terms. It is announced by officials, following the annual stockholders' meeting. They succeed C. H. Wilson and Dr. C. S. Hoyt.

The annual meeting, held in conjunction with "open house" and the regular meeting of the hospital auxiliary, featured a reception for babies born during the past year at the institution. Fifteen infants, with their mothers, were present. Prof. G. J. Bridges, of the college faculty, gave a brief history of the institution since it was chartered in 1921.

Urge Revamping Relief System

Resolutions Before State Legislature Would Occasion Changes

INVESTIGATIONS ARE ALSO ASKED

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 14—Possible revamping of Pennsylvania's relief system was indicated today on the basis of five legislative resolutions now before various committees of both branches of the general assembly for consideration.

Principal interest, from a long-range point of view, was centered on the proposal of Sen. Edward J. Thompson, D., Centre, for a joint legislative committee to prepare a plan for the permanent administration of unemployment relief. This resolution has been referred to the senate committee on state government.

Senator Thompson's recommended group would consist of three senators and three assemblymen and their efforts would be to coordinate the relief activities of the commonwealth and its municipal subdivisions. The committee, if the resolution is carried through, would submit legislation incorporating such a plan at the regular 1937 session of the legislature.

Would Investigate
The resolution of Sen. G. Mason Owlett, R., Tioga, for a senatorial investigation of the state works progress administration was reported by the senate committee on judiciary general as committed, and came up for a vote when the upper chamber re-convenes Monday. It calls for the appointment of a committee of five members of the senate to conduct "an impartial and searching" investigation of the organization, administration and functioning of the WPA in Pennsylvania.

Senator Owlett pointed out taxpayers could be relieved of "an additional burden of $70,000,000 which the governor proposes to impose on them," under a "proper" administration of the WPA, and recommended the committee report back to the senate as early as possible. He charged the Democratic administration has not kept its promise to take all employables from the direct relief rolls.

Another Allocation Proposal
Another resolution, sponsored by Sen. Joseph R. Ziesenheim, R., Erie, provided for an amendment to the $1,500,000 works program bill now in congress to permit the allocation of WPA funds under that bill to local municipalities rather than state headquarters on a per capita basis. Such administrative changes, he pointed out, would eliminate delays and unnecessary administrative costs.

Rep. John P. Brown, D., Washington, introduced two resolutions in the lower chamber, one of which provided for a study of out-of-state employees working for the state emergency relief administration, while the other asked that all married women employed by the SERA and who are not in need of employment, be replaced.

State Officials Will Carry Out Earl's Orders

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 14—State officials moved today to carry out Gov. George H. Earle's order suspending business with distilling firms who owe the commonwealth floor tax payments until those in default have posted bonds.

The governor explained an investigation had revealed some of the floor tax claims of the state were against "subsidiary operating corporations whose net worth is less than the amount of these claims." As a result, it was pointed out, even if the state was victorious in its suits to collect the taxes, it would collect only a part of the levies.

On Court House Hill

Subpoenas in divorce have been served by Sheriff Fritchard in the cases of George Waldo Stevenson against Helen Elizabeth Stevenson, and Mary Tordy against Anton Tordy.

A writ of possession has been issued by C. W. Knox against William E. E. Noggle of Big Beaver township. The property was sold by the sheriff and it is claimed that Noggle has failed to deliver up possession.

County commissioners, who have been inspecting bridges throughout the county, have found them all in good shape, with the exception of what is now known as the Harrison bridge across the Slippery Rock creek. It is in need of paint.

County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland has selected Attorney John Powers as counsel for the treasurer's office. The salary, which is fixed by act of assembly, is $50 per month.

Letters of administration have been issued at the register and recorder's office in the following estates: Thomas Mulcahy, late of Union township; to Mary Mulcahy; John Merce, late of New Castle; to Adolph Green; Margaret E. Shaffer, late of this city; to Helen H. Cheers; Sophia Eckman, late of North Beaver township; to Franklin Eckman; and Steve Sawor, late of Wampum; to Sophia Sawor.

According to a report of the Bureau of Internal Affairs received by County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland, the department of weights and measures is planning, with the cooperation of local units, to make a survey of the number of weighing and measuring devices used in each county. This will enable the bureau to check on the efficiency with which each dealer of weights and measures functions. Comparisons will be made on the basis of monthly and annual reports. The sealer of weights and measures in Lawrence county is James Rea.

Bids for strengthening the West Washington street bridge and the elimination of the two traffic cartways will be asked by the county commissioners as soon as the plans are received from the state engineering department. Data necessary for the drawing of the plans was secured by a state engineer several weeks ago, and the plans are expected any time. At the time the center of the bridge was fenced off and the two lanes constructed, it was claimed that it was the most practical way to fix the bridge. The public hasn't taken very kindly to it and everybody will no doubt be pleased to learn that the dangerous hazard is to be removed.

At last it has been settled that there are found young squirrels in the bungalow perched on one of the maple trees in front of the court house. Up until this week, it was supposed that there were only two, but now several court house employees and attorneys are willing to testify that there are four. Father and mother squirrel have the whole family out daily, giving them lessons in tree climbing. Registration Clerk Tom Edmunds had the old squirrels registered as Republicans. The squirrels' home is directly in front of the office of Register and Recorder Bill Hanna, erstwhile Democratic committee chairman, and now Edmunds is worried lest Hanna induce the young squirrels to register Democratic.

When you see a man entering the office of County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland with a smile on his face you know that he is going after a fishing license, but if he looks like all his friends are dead and he is on the way to the funeral you can bet your last soo he is going to pay his taxes.

A committee of Edenburg citizens conferred with the county commissioners yesterday relative to taking over the right of way of the defunct Railway company for a public road from Edenburg to Lowellville. The electric company, it is understood, is willing to donate the right of way which it is claimed would require very little grading. However, there is the question of who would maintain the road, and the possibility of having it improved. Some want the right of way taken over to Covert's crossing to connect with the New Castle-Covert's station road. Some further investigation of the necessity for the road and the responsibility for upkeep will be made before any decision is reached.

GARDNER

Mrs. L. M. Reed, of the old Pittsburgh road, is improving slowly and can sit up a little while each day. Mr. and Mrs. Calvin F. Clark, of the Butler road, motored to Sharon to see their relatives on Mother's Day.

Mrs. Frank Gibbons and her daughter, Miss Esther, of New Castle, called on Gardner friends last Friday evening.

Mrs. Clifford Robison and children, of Gardner, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Knight, of Rose Point, on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Harry Gibson, of Gardner, took her children to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Mayers, of Neville Island, on Mother's Day.

Attorney C. W. Fenton and Mrs. Fenton, of the Ellwood road, report having a delightful trip to Philadelphia, where they spent a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Benson and daughter, Norma Eileen, of Gardner, went to Ellwood City on Mother's Day to visit Mr. and Mrs. Scott Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hale and children, of Gardner, came to Gardner on Mother's Day in honor of Mrs. Mary Hale, who makes her home with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Derr.

Mrs. Mary J. Schubert, of New Castle, came to Gardner last week to spend a few days with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shaffer, and on Mother's Day they all motored to Oil City.

There is a cheering promise of fruit in this section just now as many trees are loaded with beautiful blossoms; there is one peach tree on the Ellwood road that is proudly flaunting a charming pink gown.

Miss Ruth Bender, of the Harlansburg road, spent ten days at a missionary convention at New Kensington and came home on Monday. Miss Bender is home on furlough from Africa and enjoys meeting her fellow laborers very greatly.

Andrew Kohret, who has been ill for some time at the home of his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Weingartner, of the Butler road, was able to sit out of doors a little while on Monday and Tuesday and to go down to breakfast on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sweet, of the Butler road, entertained the latter's mother, Mrs. Mabel Allen, of New Castle, and their father, Charles Sweet, and his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shaw, and two sons, at dinner on Mother's Day.

Rev. Norman K. Cunningham will conduct an adult prayer meeting at 7:30 on Thursday night and a meeting for children on Friday night at 6:30 at the chapel. The Gardner Sunday school is larger now than ever before as the attendance last Sunday was 56.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis, of Gardner, had these guests on Mother's Day: Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and family, of Neshannock Falls road; Mr. and Mrs. Kurland and children, of Bessemer; and Mr. and Mrs. Mackey and family, of New Castle.

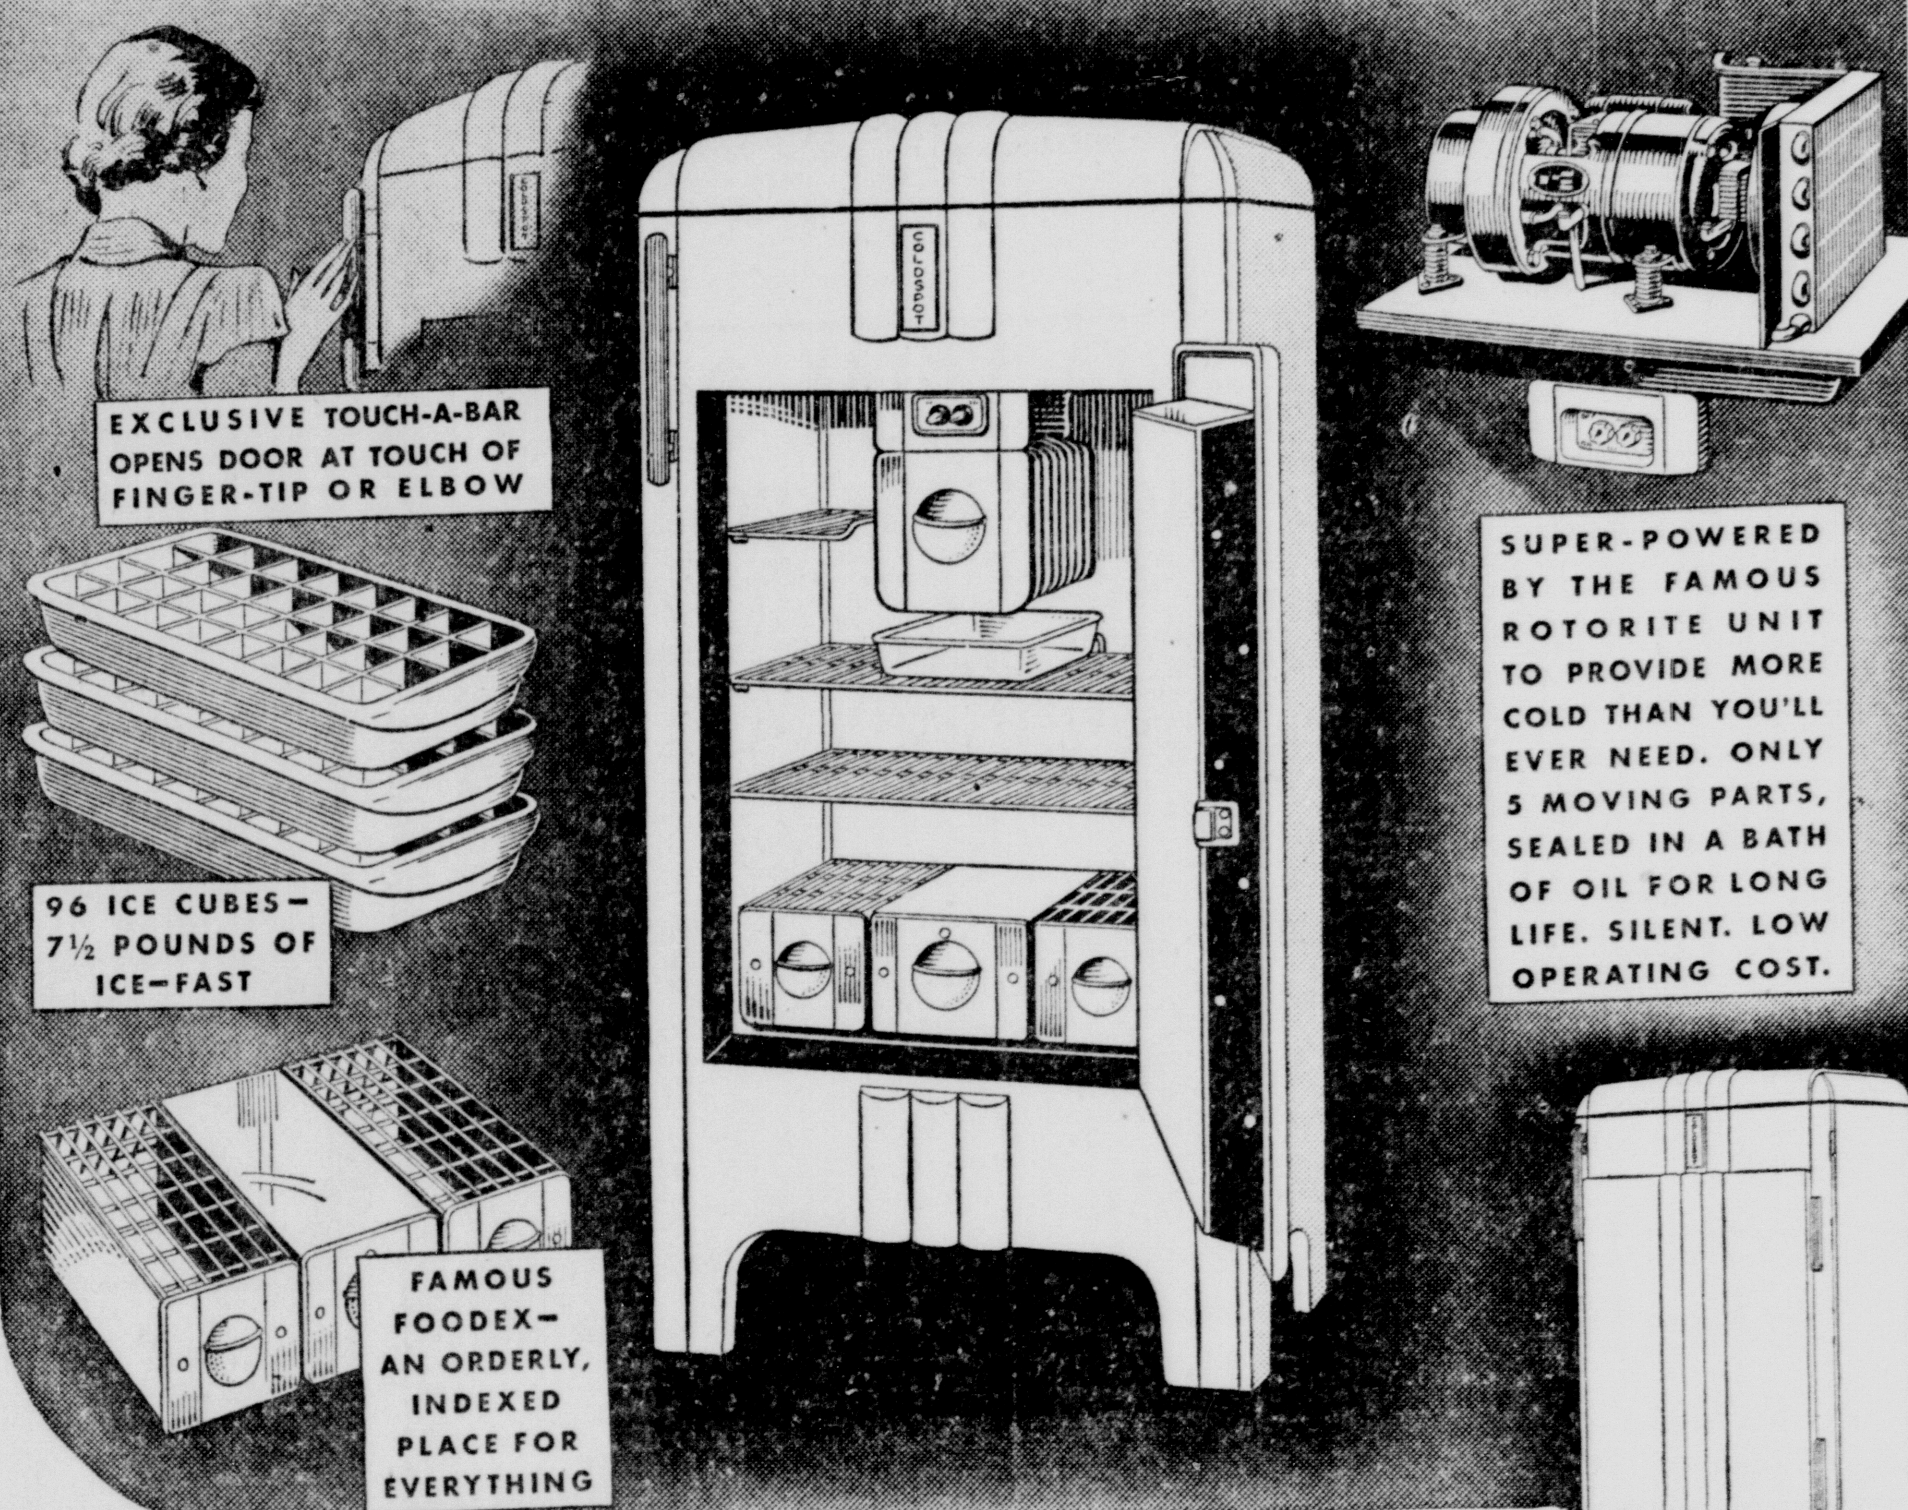

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hogue, of New Castle, came to Gardner to bid their parents good bye before starting on a long trip to Texas and other far away states. Their grandfather, Delphis Hogue, and his son and daughter were with the young couple and they anticipate a very wonderful time. They all left last Wednesday.

Ownership Of Big Timber Tracts In Pennsylvania Shown

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG—Of a total of 13,083,679 acres of forest land in Pennsylvania, 2,541,989 acres consist of government-owned lands, a survey by the department of forests and waters has revealed.

State-owned land in state forests totals 1,649,439 acres, while game tracts aggregate 493,452 acres. Privately owned forest land amounts to 10,541,690 acres, made up of 3,665,540 acres in farms and 6,876,150 acres outside of farms.

Potential forest land in the state, including abandoned farms and open lands reverting to forest based on a percentage of "improved land" lost from farms between the census years 1880 and 1930, totals 1,300,354 acres.

Postpone Building Of New Parsonage

At a meeting of the board of directors in the Ukrainian Orthodox church, Rose and Stanton avenues, it was decided to postpone the building of a parsonage until a larger sum of money is accumulated. Rev. P. Zurawetzky announces that an important meeting for all parishioners will take place in the church hall after the services next Sunday morning.

FELTS AND DERBIES GIVEN THE GONG—'TIS STRAW HAT DAY!

May 15 is the date Dame Fashion once decreed as "Straw Hat Day"—so "unfashionably" the straw hat wearing commences tomorrow. It's the day the men folk take their winter felts and derbies, shove them somewhere on a hidden shelf and step out with fresh new straw hats atop their heads, or at least it's the date the fashion folk say they should. Old Jupiter Pluvius and other things often cause them to change their minds.

Americanization Group Conducts Annual Meeting

Officers to serve for the coming year were elected at the annual meeting of the Americanization Association Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Charles Greer, North Jefferson street. They are:

President, Mrs. Charles Greer; Vice president, R. L. Meermans; Treasurer, Miss Mollie Davis; Secretary, Miss Anna Aiken; and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ida Hamilton.

Reports were submitted by the treasurer, Miss Davis; the secretary, Miss Aiken, and the retiring corresponding secretary, Mrs. Jemima Foster. Miss Christine Butler presented a resume of the Neighborhood House work from May, 1935, to May, 1936, at the close of which refreshments were served by Mrs. Greer, assisted by Miss Marquis and Mrs. Hamilton.

Many parts of Miss Butler's report were exceedingly interesting and revealed the excellent work being done in the South Side by this splendid mission. Five hundred twenty people are reached by the Neighborhood House activities and encompass many nationalities, American, Austrian, Czechoslovakian, German, Greek, Hungarian, Jewish, Lithuanian, Polish, Italian, Roumanian, Russian, Slovak and Syrian. Families in touch with the Neighborhood House number 203. The number of book exchanges in the library during the year totaled 1,109; number of borrowers, 62; number of books given to library, 60.

Week's Program

An outline of a week's work at the Neighborhood House, as reported to the association by Miss Butler, follows:

Monday—4:15 p. m., beginners sewing class, 84 enrolled; leaders, Mrs. A. A. Webb and Miss Mabel Wimer; makes quilt patches, etc., does Bible work and chorus singing, 6:30 to 9:30, woman's English class, 16 enrolled; teacher, Mrs. Cleo Thinstman of Emergency Education Relief; six nationalities represented; studies reading, writing, spelling and enunciation, sings hymns.

Tuesday—9 a. m. to 12, baby clinic under auspices of state nurses. 1:30 to 4 p. m., woman's English class, 4:15 p. m., Loyal Temperance Legion and knitting class; leader, Mrs. W. C. Wilkins, president of the Lawrence County W. C. T. U.; knits sweaters, makes pocketbooks, learns temperance facts, songs and cheers. 7 p. m., Christian Endeavor; leader,

Miss Mabel Lewis; 50 enrolled, connected Bible story told, illustrated talks given, chorus numbers learned. 8 p. m., prayer group, members praying for missionaries, Christian workers and Neighborhood House.

Wednesday—1:30 to 4:30 p. m., woman's English class, citizenship study; prayer meeting attended by some of Neighborhood House children.

Thursday—2 to 4 p. m., home nursing class, 12 enrolled; teacher, Mrs. Murray, of Emergency Education Relief. 4:15 p. m., embroidery circle; leader, Mrs. W. J. Marshall; 25 enrolled; makes bureau scarfs, table covers, aprons.

Friday—4:15 p. m., music class; Miss Violet Shuler, teacher; eight enrolled; boys and girls doing good work, one of number now studying voice with Mrs. Garth Edmundson. 6:30 to 9:30 p. m., English class for women.

Sunday—Sabbath school; Jay Allsworth, superintendent; about 200 enrolled; teachers, Miss Mabel Lewis; Miss Beulah Heaton, Eleanor Saros, Mary Ravess, Christine Butler, Olga Nahas and Walter Green. Sabbath school lesson learned, Bible verses and choruses learned. Three girls accepted Christ. There are 20 in home department, 23 in cradle roll. Ten boys and girls of different classes have accepted Christ. Bible leaflets sent by American Tract Society and which were distributed totaled 1,400.

Distribute Bibles

A total of 79 Bibles and 130 Gospels of John printed in many different languages were distributed. Two missionary talks were given at Sabbath school by Mrs. Edward Balph and William Zavinsky, who is going out to the Sudan, Africa, as a missionary.

Parties were given at the close of the class work last summer for beginners sewing and woman's English classes and picnics for the embroidery circle and Sabbath school at the park.

At Christmas time the Girl Reserves of the high school entertained 104 of the small girls. One hundred of the boys were given a Christmas dinner at the Y. M. C. A. by the Phalanx club. One hundred eighty Sabbath school children received a treat, 66 dolls and toys were given out. In all, about 450 boys and girls were remembered through the help of the Sabbath schools and clubs.

Miss Butler said that the work had been presented to the Margaret Copeland Circle of the Third U. P. church, the Central Presbyterian Christian Endeavor, the Laura Stevenson class of the Central Presbyterian church, the Union Missionary Group of the United Presbyterian women.

Thirty boys under 16 have a good time at the Y. M. C. A. each Saturday afternoon; 20 boys were sent to the Y. M. C. A. camp by the Phalanx last summer; 100 were entertained on Christmas by the Y. M. C. A.

PULASKI

MOTHER, DAUGHTER BANQUET

One of the most pleasant social events of the past week was the mothers' and daughters' banquet, which was held on Thursday evening under the auspices of the Methodist choir, of which Mrs. Ralph Goddard is musical director. The affair was held in the Methodist church. The dining room was very attractively decorated and covers were laid for nearly seventy-five. The program was opened by Mrs. Lloyd Mitchell, toastmistress. Pep singing was one of the features of the evening. A playlet following dinner was given, representing a mother of 75 years ago, which was taken by Mrs. J. R. Meek. The mother of 50 years ago was Mrs. Charles Clark; 35 years ago, Mrs. Roy C. Bilger, and the present mother was portrayed by Mrs. Arthur Meek. Two selections on mothers were read by Miss Beryl Cameron and Mrs. Walter Mitchell. The oldest mother present was Mrs. Annie Jennings, who was presented with a lovely gift by Mrs. Mitchell in behalf of the choir; as was also Mrs. Floyd Myers, the youngest mother present. Guests present from out of town were: Attorney and Mrs. Charles R. Davis, Mrs. Hazel Hicks and Mrs. Arthur Meek, of New Castle, Mrs. F. M. Taylor, West Middlesex, Mrs. Floyd Myers, East Palestine and Mrs. Lewis Miles of Sharon. A fine chicken dinner was served by the men of the choir.

PLAN CELEBRATION

The annual meeting of the citizens was held at Hotel Pulaski on Friday evening to arrange for Memorial Day. The following officers were elected: President, Rev. Earl Jay Jennings; vice president, Chas. F. Wick; honorary president, E. L. Ayers; secretary, Mrs. James Black; treasurer, Mrs. John P. Clark; to select speakers for Decoration Day, Dr. Frederick Taylor and E. L. Ayers. Union memorial services will be held on Sunday evening, May 24, in the Methodist church with the pastor, Rev. Jennings, in charge. The music committee, Mrs. Ralph Goddard and Mrs. Fred E. Wallace. Other committees are: To purchase flowers for soldiers' graves, Howard W. Michael; boutonniere, Mrs. Laura Wilson and Mrs. Walter Mitchell; decorating committee, Lawrence Mitchell, Walter Mitchell, George Pappas; to place flowers on soldiers' graves, Howard W. Michael and James Hodge.

Services will be held in the Methodist church on Memorial Day afternoon at 3 o'clock. Dr. Taylor reported that Captain T. W. McCollough, of New Castle, will be the speaker.

Further Plans For Poppy Day

Harry L. McBride Post Also Completes Arrangements For Memorial Day

WILL ATTEND
COUNCIL MEETING

Plans for the annual Poppy Day sale of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, were furthered at the meeting of the post in the Legion Home last evening.

Chairman Carl Staebler reported that plans for the day have been virtually completed, and the public is expected to show a generous response to their appeal for funds to carry on the various charitable works of the V. F. W. on May 23, the day of the annual sale.

Arrangements were also made by the post to attend the monthly Tri-County Council meeting, which will take place in the rooms of Shenango Valley Post No. 1338, in Sharon, this evening.

Plans were also made for the part the post will take in the annual Memorial Day exercises.

Girls Have Mothers At Tea In Y. W. C. A.

George Washington School Girl Reserves Entertain Mothers
Wednesday Night

The members of the George Washington School Girl Reserves entertained their mothers Wednesday night at a tea given in the Green Room of the Y. W. C. A.

Anita Love, president, gave a toast to Mothers and Mrs. P. H. Bridenbaugh responded.

An interesting feature of the evening was the style show in which Audrey Bridenbaugh, Betty Drio, Martha McClusky and Betty Reed modeled old fashioned wedding dresses; Phyllis James modeled for dresses to be worn at morning work; tennis by Helene Edgar; shopping and street clothes by Jean Allen, Doris Boalich, Jean Edelstein, and Suzanne Flick; beach costumes by Ora Jane Snyder and riding outfit by Jane Morris; afternoon tea gowns by Jean Hoch and Sara Sherbine; lounging pajamas by Betty Drio; and dinner dresses by Nancy McKee, Marian Book and Maxine Montgomery, and night ensemble by Barbara Matthews. The models were accompanied by Miss Clarissa Duff at the piano.

Hallie Paxson Davis as chairman of the program committee presided during the evening.

After the program was concluded tea was poured by Miss Genevieve Hazen, adviser for the club and by Anita Love. The tea table was artistically arranged with slender tapers and spring flowers.

On the menu committee were Suzanne Flick, June Abel, Lucille Forestburg and Shirley Robson.

Suggest Emblem For Band Members

In a report to the school board Wednesday night the committee on insignia presented a proposed emblem for use in making awards to the members of the senior high band and orchestra as was suggested some time ago.

The design is a red and black lyre, with the initials NC imposed on it. This would be given to a first year student who makes good in either the band or orchestra. For each additional year a stripe would be added below the lyre. The cost of chenille emblems would be ninety cents each.

Director J. H. McIlvenny said he thought the idea was a good one but that he thought this was no time to be adding expense to the school budget. The matter was held, to be considered with the proposed music council.

McKibben Named School Treasurer

C. C. McKibben, city treasurer, was elected treasurer of the New Castle school board Wednesday night when the board held its regular meeting. The term starts July 1. The salary was fixed at $250 per year and the board will bear the cost of the $75,000 bond needed. Mr. McKibben was also elected treasurer of the athletic council at a salary of $20 per year. The council will bear the cost of the bond. It is customary to elect the city treasurer, the school treasurer also, but the term does not start until July 1.

Six Young Men Doomed To Die Together

SCENE IN NEW YORK AS "MASS EXECUTION" SENTENCE IS PASSED

Six young men, ranging in age from 18 to 31, are pictured before the bench in a New York court, receiving sentences of death in the electric chair—for the slaying of one man. The six were members of a gang convicted of the $250 holdup-slaying of Edwin Esposito, young subway collector, in September, 1935. When the youths go to the chair, it will be the greatest "mass execution in New York's history. Shown, left to right, are Salvatore Scata, 18; Joseph Bologna, 23; Theodore Di Donne, 31; Dominick Rizzo, 26; Sam Kimmel, 21, and Eugene Bruno, 21.

HARLANSBURG

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

The Harlansburg Presbyterian church organized a missionary society last Thursday with the following officers: Mrs. Charles Bell, president; Mrs. Thomas Cooper, vice president; Mrs. A. R. Flack, secretary; Mrs. J. E. Stoughton, treasurer. Meetings will be held the first Wednesday of each month at the church.

At the Slippery Rock church at Moore's Corners Sunday morning an unknown donor, in honor of his own mother, had presented to each mother present, who was a member, a beautiful American Beauty rose. There was a mother's day service by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Fulton, and special music by Wylie Fulton and Donald Barron.

MOTORCYCLE TRIP

Clair Hanna and Raymond Graham took a motorcycle trip down through West Virginia on Sunday. They were dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. A. I. Dickinson of Dallas. They went from there to Wheeling and were entertained at evening dinner by Rev. and Mrs. Copeland and Mr. and Mrs. Brulheim of New Castle.

'Senior Day' On College Campus

Slippery Rock Graduating Group Participates In Exercises Today

(Special To The News)
SLIPPERY ROCK, May 14.—A full and varied program was in full swing on the Slippery Rock State Teachers college campus today as the annual Senior Day exercises, long anticipated and carefully planned, took place with groups of seniors playing lead roles.

An assembly this morning opened festivities. Senior President Arthur Hjelte was in charge. The traditional class speakers, the historian, orator and all were heard. A new note in the farewell program was the senior class presentation of its charge to the juniors.

Humor and entertainment formed the second part of the program, and then, at 2 this afternoon, the yearly ivy planting ceremony took place at the East gymnasium. Russell Dunlap was Ivy Day orator. At 3 at Stoughton's beach will come the class picnic with Pauline Keefe in charge.

A presentation of "As You Like It" by students of the college dramatic department will culminate the celebration tonight.

WILL PLAY TONIGHT

The postponed softball game last night of the Nobilis and Bonnetts will be played tonight at the Lehigh field at 5:45 o'clock, it was announced.

CROSSWAY

THE Ninth Ward had its traditions. They hid in gaunt, ugly brick buildings and where the dust swirled through alleys. They were in the plood of feet, the quick run; eyes that flashed or looked stoically forth, heavy-veined hands or white fingers.

They were in the pushcarts, the flower women with poor little bouquets, the kids in torn, hand-me-down clothes and bare feet. They were in the color and picturesqueness which, oddly enough, raised the ward above the very squalor they indicated. And deepest among them was pure courage, the ability to meet circumstances bravely without the applause of even that little world.

Casey had that courage; Big Jim Casey, that genial officer so loved by those he guarded and, occasionally, arrested. So had Dan O'Shea along with hundreds of others. And Sally McCutcheon learned it.

Sally had been graduated with honors from the great public school which served those of the ward's children unable to dodge the truant officer. But the honors had not aided her in getting work. She lived with her mother in two grey little rooms in an unending struggle with poverty.

If only she could get work!

Sally knew Officer Casey by sight and a dim, nodding acquaintance shared with most residents of the ward. She did not know Dan O'Shea by name until long after developing a speaking friendship with that red-headed, freckle-faced kid who roared papers on Grimm Street.

One hot day she stopped beside him, feeling a little dazed from the sun beating down on her head and tired from long restless nights and having walked too far that morning, considering the woman's problem of the crossway.

It felt gratefully cool in the shade cast by the awning over the bank entrance and she liked the thought of someone being near to whom she might speak if she wished. But she did not speak to Dan. She was thinking of Arthur Conway who wanted her. Arthur said he had always wanted her, his life had been one search for her, that she was the most wonderful thing. Arthur was a little poetical at times. She could never entirely rid herself of the conviction that he was also crafty. Perhaps it was his eyes. He looked at and through her, his thoughts seeming to travel far in advance of hers.

Arthur wanted her. He had an apartment all ready for them. They would live in eternal happiness. In fact everything was ready except a clergyman and he was strangely obdurate on that point.

"Tell me truly," she had asked, "are you married, Art?"

"I swear I am not, Sally." But he had been looking at the sky while he spoke.

Marriage was an ancient institution, he said. Let them have it who wished. It was also restricting, choking to that spark of freedom, the heritage of man.

SHE tried harder to land the job that would pay her twelve dollars a week. The necessity of making a decision started worrying and oppressing her. She avoided Arthur with his manner of waiting expectantly; sure. She had met him on the street and he had tipped his hat gallantly, smiled gently and asked: "How about it, Sally?"

Then she had shaken her head hastily. "Please don't."

But he had asked again because Sally was a pretty little thing with a certain dignity to her oval face and an intelligent light in her dark eyes.

Then, one evening, she gasped: "I'll see. I'll let you know. Please, please go away!"

It was like the cry of a hurt child, but he went, smiling inscrutably, and Sally slept poorly and walked hurriedly under the hot sun next morning, trying to escape the thoughts which were riding full weight on her slim shoulders. The only real friend she had to turn to was the red-headed, freckle-faced kid who was only fourteen and she did not know his name.

"Sally," he called as she stood under the awning.

She turned quickly at the sound of her name, surprised that he knew it, not aware of how much was known to that shrewd young fellow.

"Yes?"

"Watch my stand a minute, will you?" "Surely," she answered readily.

He was immediately off like a rabbit, threading through the people on the walk. She smiled after him as she heard him whoop somewhere up the block.

Then she saw Casey looking after him and grinning too. Casey was on the little stand in the middle of the crossing, blowing his whistle and signalling traffic. When he turned in her direction he made a motion of his head for her benefit. It seemed to say, "Can you beat that kid?" and there was evident pride expressed for his young countryman.

She was looking blankly at the little rack of papers when an elderly man picked one up. He looked at her irresolutely then around the walk. "Do you know where the boy is?" he asked.

"He just went away for a minute," she explained, then added, flushing, "I'm watching his stand."

"Oh, I see." Then he handed her a quarter and she went to the cigar stand and returned with the change.

"Thank you, sir," she said and added naively, "he'll be glad you took one."

The man looked at her face and seeing the earnestness of it restrained a chuckle. "I'm sure he will," he agreed gravely and took another nickel from his pocket. "I believe I had better take two, just in case one gets lost," he said with a serious expression. Then he went on, folding the papers under his arm and she looked after him curiously.

DAN'S minute stretched to five. Sally sold two more papers and was quite pleased with the result when he came tearing from the other direction at the same bouncing speed with which he had left, his arrival announced by a whoop intended as that of Indians about to partake of a juicy massacre.

"I sold four," she said and handed him the money.

"Swell!" he exclaimed breathlessly, "that's better'n I could do, Sally. Here." He held a nickel toward her.

"No, thanks," she said laughingly, "I've plenty." She patted her empty purse.

Dan still held out the nickel uncertainly then pushed it into his pocket and reached for a paper. "All right. Take this, then," he said and handed her a paper.

She hesitated but he was so earnest in wishing to reward her that she reluctantly accepted. "You could get a nickel by selling it," he said, grinning. "So can you. That's how I got started," he added with the pride of a successful business man.

"You mean getting papers for nothing?" she asked vaguely, aware that her little relief from worry was already fading.

"Yeah. I gotta penny each and one free for twenty sold. Then I'd sell the ones I got free. Of course I'd do that when I was through with the other guy. Many the day I made a quarter that way. Where do you work?"

She was smiling at his mention of the unsuspected wealth in the newspaper business. The smile quivered at the abrupt question. "I'm not working."

"Oh." The newsboy seemed embarrassed, as if he had read the tragedy of her situation in her face. Then she said goodbye and he called after her to suggest that she sell the paper and get a nickel.

But she didn't sell it. She rolled it into a tight little bundle and went to her room. She lay back on the bed and looked at the ceiling, smiling slightly at the memory of those bright eyes when he had said, "Many's the day I made a quarter." It was restful there on the bed. The front page of the paper seemed drifting before her eyes. Then nickels and the newsboy's face.

Her mother woke her in the grey of evening. "Sally," she called gently. "My, you've been sleeping sound. Arthur's here."

"Arthur?" she asked curiously then remembrance came back and she was glad of the dimness hiding her flush. "He shouldn't have come!" she said savagely.

Her mother looked at her quickly, then at the door to the other room. "Sally! He'll hear you," she said reprovingly.

Sally crossed the room and put her head through the door. Arthur was sitting there, smiling in his curious, intriguing manner.

"Hello, Sally," he greeted her, rising, "ready?"

She hesitated and felt her hand tremble on the door. Then she shook her head and laughed nervously. "No."

He stood there, straight, tall, and she was surprised that she couldn't hate him.

"We'll take a walk," he suggested.

"No," she repeated, "we're having dinner."

"Let me take you out to dinner," he suggested.

She shook her head but her mother prodded her. "It's all right, Sally, I can manage," she whispered.

LATER Sally sat across the white table in a small restaurant. Arthur was very nice to her, and trying to hate him, she could only think of his gentle manner and feel it irresistibly undermining her strength. She tried to think, "This man is a rat!" but it was impossible while he spoke.

She smiled and was not aware that the mild excitement of the thought made her yet more attractive.

He leaned across the table. "Even the sky seems different. You'll find out, then, what I meant about the ward when I said you'll never be any more than dust. You've a right to something decent," he said and she laughed outright. "I mean a living. Clothes. What woman doesn't want plenty of clothes? You see, Sally, it's just a matter of custom. Could you buy a hat tomorrow?"

She felt conscious of the purse in her lap, of its flabbiness, of the torn lining holding nothing more than a handkerchief, a lipstick, powder. She realized that she could not buy a package of gum, tomorrow.

"I hoped you wouldn't say any more about it," she said slowly.

He looked at her silently for a moment and lit a cigarette. "Do you really wish I wouldn't?" he asked in a low voice. "I'll take your answer now. I'll walk right out of here, if you wish. We'll never meet again. It's you I'm thinking of, Sally. You and your future. Do you want me to go?"

She didn't answer. She felt herself trembling in a terror of weakness. He had said, "We'll never meet again." How much better that they shouldn't yet how alone she would be without that one avenue of release.

"Oh, please," she begged, "I—I can't say." She avoided his gaze but seemed to feel his smile.

"I'll tell you what we'll do," he suggested gently, "don't say now whether you will or won't. I'll show you the apartment. It will be all your own. You can have books and clothes. The sun shines in the windows and there are pictures on the wall."

She looked at him, her eyes darker in contrast to the pale cheeks. Then she felt herself rising as if impelled by a strange, malignant force. He took her arm and gently thrust it under his. Then they were out in the cool evening and she caught a glimpse of stars in a dark sky. He stepped out to call a taxi but she stopped him.

"I want to walk through the Ninth Ward again," she said in a calm, strange sounding voice.

His expression changed slightly, a look of impatience crossing it. "You can do that tomorrow."

"No," she said softly, "No. I can't do it tomorrow."

He looked down at her curiously, then agreed.

FRUIT lay spoiling in the gutters. Kids were yelling in doorways and from upper windows. She saw it in all its squalor; the dust, the litter. The pushcarts were dingy. The people were shabby, poor. Even the tall street lights seemed shrouded in a shadowy film.

They passed Dan O'Shea's stand and she would not have been conscious of it except that the boy's voice came out with a blast about the home edition. "Hello, Sally," he called cheerfully and provided her escort with an appraising stare.

She looked at him dully for a moment. "Oh—hello," she said and shivered slightly.

Dan looked surprised at the brevity of her greeting as well as the obvious hesitation. But she had passed on, saying to her companion: "All right."

Dan was only fourteen. He was not supposed to know the troubles and temptations of a woman out of work, a young woman full of life and the desire for the things which make life worth living. As a matter of fact, he didn't. But he did know that she looked sick and had answered a query although her companion had not asked a question.

"Hey, Jim," Dan called when the big cop came strolling along enjoying the evening after his shift, "what's the low-down on Sally McCutcheon?"

"Don't know her," said Casey. "Why?" "Sure you do. She was tending stand for me about noon."

"Oh. I didn't know her name but now that's all I do know."

"She just went by with a guy. I don't like his looks."

Casey looked at the boy in astonishment. Then he laughed heartily and the brass buttons over the big stomach shook. "Dan, you're too young to be pickin' a girl's boy friends."

The boy flushed hotly. "No, Jim. It's not that way. Honest," he said earnestly, "but—oh, well, let it pass."

He looked up the street. The girl was standing on the corner at the end of the next block. She was looking back in his direction and Dan was not certain whether her glance was directed at him or not. Her escort was not in sight, having left in search of a taxi and the Ninth Ward is not the easiest section in which to find one.

Dan waved an arm and Casey chuckled. "You young flirt," he taunted the boy and went on around the corner.

But Sally McCutcheon was looking at him. Then she started toward him and he felt the color flushing his face. Gosh, to think of him, Dan O'Shea, called a flirt and waving to another guy's girl. The gang would razz him plenty if they heard of it.

HE watched her return and sent up a silent prayer that Officer Casey would not come back. It was an embarrassing spot for the newsboy and people might get the facts cockeyed, as Jim Casey had done.

She had been walking slowly. Now she came on more briskly and crossed the street to Dan's side. "What's your name?" she asked abruptly and he saw the color come and go in her face. She looked as if she might fall and Dan was dimly conscious that her troubles were greater than his.

"Dan O'Shea, Ma'am," he answered and his own face reddened until his ears were burning. He felt the intensity of her gaze.

"Thanks, Dan," she said fervently and he was puzzled as he had given her nothing. Let me sell your papers."

"Sell my papers! Gosh, what do you want to sell papers for, Sally?"

She smiled nervously and glanced hastily back in the direction from which she had come. "Just a little while," she begged.

"You'd better go home. You look sick."

"I am," she said in a low voice. Then, "Please, I'll just be a minute."

He relented and stood back against the wall while she took his place by the stand. She picked up a couple of papers and held them but she didn't seem to know what she was doing.

Dan became more alarmed and finally tore after Casey. When he came back with the big cop Sally was talking to a man in a taxi. He had the door open and looked pretty mad.

"I tell you I have a job," she was saying tearfully, "now, please go. Go away and never come again."

"Sally, selling papers is no—" he stopped when he saw Dan and Casey. Then he spoke sharply to the driver, glared at the girl and was whirled away before he had shut the door.

The girl reached a hand toward the paper stand, missed it, reeled and would have fallen save for Casey's quick arm. "You're okay," he said gruffly.

She pressed her hand against her forehead. "Yes," she said vaguely. "Surely. Thanks, Mr. Casey." She looked up at the officer then sobbed softly and pointed a shaking finger at Dan. "I couldn't go with Arthur," she cried, "because he made a quarter many and many a day, selling papers he got free!"

Then she was weeping in Casey's arms, weeping like a little child and Casey was looking in the direction taken by the taxi with growing astonishment and anger in his face. He turned to the young newsboy. "You little dickens!" he said, "You're right again!"

Dan tried to grin but the effort was weak. He was frightened by Sally's collapse. "Thanks, Jim," he said, bewildered, "but what in the world am I right about?"

Casey turned to the girl and forgot him. "That's all right, Sally," he said in his gentle, fatherly manner, "now let's you and me go talk it over."

Dan O'Shea watched them go down the block, the officer half carrying her. Then he picked up the papers he had dropped.

"Wimmen!" he exclaimed viciously. "They can't never talk sense. She couldn't go because I—evening paper, Mister? Thanks."

NEW YORK, May 14.—The International Philatelic Exhibition or stamp collector's show, now current at the Grand Central Palace here, should stimulate both those who collect and those who do not to form a number of interesting conclusions. Of course it fascinated me, because the first writing I ever did, at the age of twelve was for stamp journals, and even now my wife is an ardent collector.

The exhibition is rich and grand. The dealers' stalls are well patronized. Men and women wait for hours in line to purchase stamps specially issued by the government in honor of the occasion. And yet I think that such large well-bellied and flamboyant exhibitions do a disservice to stamp collecting.

For stamp collecting, to use the terminology of the psychologist, is almost pure introversion. It is a fierce withdrawal; it is a protest against the external, workaday world. Your stamp collector flees with his album into a magnificent fictitious habitat, into an intensely private temple where he worships at the shrine of pure Rarity—a rare at once touching and absurd.

The collection of nothing else—neither jewels nor paintings nor plate—involves a dedication to scarcity and scarcity alone in its absolute sense. The most valuable stamps are almost without exception the least pleasing to the eye; indeed the botched and careless printings, the ineffable "errors" are the costliest of all. Here then is an estheticism which transcends mere prettiness and goes to the hidden springs of acquisitiveness and the desire for uniqueness where they bubble nobly in the human heart.

For acquisitiveness and the desire to own something, i. e., to be unique are both noble emotions. Don't let the collectivists tell you otherwise; they are merely the ones who have failed in the gratification of both. No Communist at heart—no one, that is, who clings frantically to the shirralls of the mob hoping only to be fed—has ever been a stamp collector in the true sense, as a philatelist.

But what happens to this thrilling interior flight, this worship of the extraordinary and unique in the halls of the Grand Central Palace? Collectors march up and down aisle after aisle past huge glass show-cases filled with blocks of four.

LOSE FAT THE EASY WAY

Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

Here's a way to get rid of ugly fat that works hand in hand with Nature. Millions of people are losing millions of pounds of flabby flesh and getting back slender figures, without the need of starvation diets or back-breaking exercises.

Medical science has discovered that one of the causes of too much fat lies in a little gland. It is the duty of this tiny gland to make about one drop and a half every day of a vital fluid. This helps the body "burn" up food and excess fatty tissues just as a good draft of air helps the furnace to burn up coal without forming "clinkers." If this little gland doesn't make this drop and a half of fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat.

Doctors correct this condition by feeding this little gland the substance it lacks—and Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on this same method. Millions are using them with success. They are prepared by a world-famous medical laboratory. Their formula is published in every package so you know what you are taking.

So don't waste time and money with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Go to your drugist today and get a box of Marmola. Try this simple, easy way to get rid of excess fat.

panes, sheets of the scarcer stamps. They see rarities in profusion. Their eyes ache and their heads swim with the abundance of Rarity; a paradox. For instantly and subtly it ceases to be Rarity for them. The vestal flame of the philatelic instinct wavers, grows dim and—at least temporarily—vanishes like the sense of shock in a nudist colony.

There is, indeed, something a little indecent, about these album pages removed from their binders and publicly displayed to the gaping crowds, row on row on row. You observe the neat script of the owner, painstakingly inscribed in the privacy of his study through how many rapt midnight hours. You peer at various small, cryptic notations and symbols set down for a purely private communion of a man with himself. And you feel, if you are sensitive, a subtle sense of outrage.

No stamp collecting can't be "extroverted"—can't be whooped up and made the excuse for conventions and rallies and proselyting campaigns. Strange old men can swap peeks at their special rarities in the dim rooms of the Collector's Club, but when the masses besiege the Grand Central Palace as if they were attending a radio or an automobile show, it may make stamp collecting less eccentric in the public eye, but it does damage to the essential impulse.

Of course the collectors who assemble stickers bearing the faces of Famous Men or Mountain Peaks or Birds of the World are not philatelic at all. They are like people who paint china or gather trays or named with butterfly wings. Their hobby is at home in the Grand Central Palace. But the ecstasy of the man who would spend (and doubtless has spent) a year's salary for a tiny bit of paper simply because it is Rare—with an "i" undotted, perhaps, or a cloud disarranged in the design—must be pursued in lost loneliness.

He is sentenced to the cabinet—which Dr. Caligari knew how to enjoy.

MOTHERS, DAUGHTERS BANQUET

Eighty-five mothers and daughters gathered in the Harmony Baptist church last Friday evening and participated in the mothers and daughters' banquet. After the guests were seated at the prettily decorated tables the invocation was given by Mrs. W. E. Currie. Afterward a delicious chicken dinner was served. At intervals there was singing led by Mrs. Francis Currie. The toast to the mothers was given by Miss Helen Houk and the toast to the daughters by Mrs. W. E. Currie. Later, a mothers' day program of songs, dialogues and recitations was given. The program was closed by all joining in singing "Home Sweet Home."

CASTLEWOOD NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Sochia announce the birth of a daughter on May 9.

Mrs. J. C. Knight of Highland Heights visited Friday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harold Currie.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Durnell of the Harlansburg road visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Cunningham.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Vaneman and sons, Bobby and Jack, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Vaneman.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, of Dubois, spent last Friday and Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry White. They also called on other friends in Castlewood.

Mrs. S. L. Cobb and daughters, Evelyn, Vera, Helen, Wilma Jean and Joanna Ruth have gone to Marianne, Pa., where they will spend a couple weeks with Mrs. Cobb's mother.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

EDUCATE FOR SAFETY

THE PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION has established itself so well that some states have set aside, by proclamation of the governor, a Parent-Teacher Day, Ohio and New Jersey being, among the first.

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers has launched a safety education. Its safety program, which will be employed by local parent-teacher associations during the next year, includes the following:

1. Sponsorship of standard school-boy safety patrols.
2. Proper marking for streets approaching schools.
3. Strict observance of laws governing minimum age for young drivers.
4. Instruction in driving for students in high school.
5. Co-operation with police in securing maximum protection at school crossings.
6. Support of the driver's license law.
7. Improvement of school bus facilities.

This program is being directed by Miss Marian Tilford, national congress chairman of safety and director of field activities for the National Safety council.

Concerning driving instructions to high school students, none should have such instructions before they are of legal driving age. Unfortunately, some have, being encouraged to violate the law and to come in conflict with it by the parents. Parents are wise never to allow their child to have his first experience at the wheel until he literally is legally old enough to do so. They should know that they run the risk of losing the protection of their liability insurance in case of accident while their child under legal age is driving.

Summer Round-Up

One of the finest contributions of the P. T. A. is the summer round-up. Through this program the schools and the public health authorities make available free physical examination this spring of those children who for the first time will enter school next fall. Parents of these children found to have defective teeth or other remediable physical defects, are urged to have their family doctor and dentist care for these children, so they might not have to enter school in September needlessly handicapped. Also free immunization of these children against diphtheria and vaccination against smallpox are made available. Because of this program many parents are having their infants also immunized against diphtheria.

If you have a baby over six months of age, please do not let another day pass without going to your doctor or the public health department to have his first "shot" of toxin-antitoxin for immunity against diphtheria. Why run the risk of letting him die from this dread disease when prevention is so certain, safe and easy?

And don't neglect yourself, mother. Many a mother very solicitous of her children's medical care will fail to have her own body properly checked by a competent physician. I wonder how many persons stay away from the doctor fearing that he might find something needing surgical attention. Think of the tragedies which might have been averted but for such postponement.

Max Schmeling Warns Louis Of 'Sunday' Punch

Schmeling Very Perturbed About Fight With Louis, Only Sleeps Ten Hours

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer
NAPANOC, N. Y., May 14.—Max Schmeling is so absolutely resigned to the thought of getting himself discontinued and destroyed by Joe Louis on the night of June 18 that about all he was able to think of yesterday was what he ought to do in regard to a championship meeting with James J. Braddock in September. He, Schmeling, finally decided to remain in America—"provided I beat Louis," he added, apologetically—have his wife, Anny Ondra, German motion picture star, come over for a short vacation and then settle down to serious training for Braddock.

Can't Even Sleep
outside of that, the man is positively beside himself with terror and is unable to sleep longer than ten hours a night. After the tenth hour, they simply go in and get him. This all developed during a pentecostal 24 hours the writer decided to spend with "the condemned man" by way of observing his reactions. In consequence, I am able to make the customary report that the condemned man ate a hearty meal and to further add that he had himself a hearty laugh when I suggested that it might be a good thing to play more golf in order to take his mind off the fight.

"Take my mind off the fight?" he echoed, as though not quite understanding what he heard. "I don't want to take my mind off the fight. That's what I'm here for—to prepare, get ready for this fight and so naturally I concentrate on it always. A man would be foolish to pretend, even to himself, that he is interested in anything else at a time like this."

Warns Louis
"Louis isn't, and, if he pretends he is, he is making a mistake. He is the best man I ever met but I warn him now that I'm the best man he has ever met. Yes, I warn him; this is serious business. I don't want to take my mind off things like that."

How serious? Well, I started to go into that and suddenly found myself being addressed very briskly by this usually mild man. In his own quiet way, he was suddenly seeing red.

"They say I have just come over here to get the money for this fight." If it hadn't been Schmeling, I would have thought he was on the verge of shouting. "If that is so, why do I take all this trouble? The money is already arranged for. So."

Boston Red Sox Continue To Win

Bill Werber Cracks Out Homer And Wins Game For Dashing Red Hose

MONTE PEARSON
TAMES BROWNS

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, May 14.—As the Boston Red Sox continue their drive toward the American league pennant, which, for a change, would be a payday for their owner, Mr. Tom Yawkey, it becomes more evident in every game that they have what it takes to get there or thereabouts. Moreover, not all of their talent was grown on Mr. Yawkey's Philadelphia farm, operated by Connie Mack.

Werber Is Good.
In Bill Werber, for example, the Red Sox present a hitter and a base-runner who by some magic escaped doing time at Philadelphia, before arriving at Boston, and who right now is engaged in making a comeback.

He was regarded as something of a flop last season because he stole only 29 bases, which was better than anybody else did, but not up to his 40 the previous year, and because he hit only 255 after compiling a .321 average in 1934.

He is among the two or three outstanding leaders on the base paths this season and he is cracking the ball at a 360 clip, with his most notable achievement to date giving the Sox a 3 to 1 victory over the Detroit Tigers yesterday.

Hits Out Homer.
The nimble third-sacker came up in the fourth with two on and pounded the ball out of sight. That homer was one of three hits for him during the game, while no other Boston player made more than one of the nine garnered off Schoolboy Rowe and Lawson.

The former was charged with the defeat, and Ostermuller, who relieved Walberg, scored the victory, with the Tigers making only six hits. The Sox didn't gain anything by the victory, but neither did they lose anything. They remained a half game behind the New York Yankees, who finally got together and whipped the St. Louis Browns, 4-1, in the only other American league game.

Monte Pearson pitched the victory, a five-hitter, and fanned six, while the Yanks made 11 hits off Hogsett and Caldwell.
The National league slate also was curtailed to two games by rain. The Boston Bees won from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4 to 3, in 10 innings on Jordan's single which drove in the winning run, and Philadelphia trimmed Cincinnati, 9 to 7, in a free-hitting affair.

Lopez hit a homer for the Bees, Grace Smacked one for the Phils and Handler and Lombardi made one each for the Reds.

Hero And Goat

(International News Service)
The Hero—Bill Werber, who hit homer with two on to give Red Sox 3-1 victory over Tigers.

Helen Wills Moody May Play Again In Wimbledon Tourney

By HAROLD HEROUX
International News Service Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—On the first leg of what may be another trip to Wimbledon and another historic match with Helen Jacobs, Helen Wills Moody will leave her home here tonight by train for New York.

In an interview, Mrs. Moody, still the "queen of the tennis courts" said she was uncertain whether she would board a transatlantic liner at New York or return here after a brief visit to Manhattan. Packing her luggage for the trip, Mrs. Moody smiled.
"I'm going to New York for my first exhibit of oil paintings. I'm just thrilled. The exhibit will be held at the Grand Central art gallery."

Really Doesn't Know
"And, about your tennis—are you going to Wimbledon?" she was asked.

"I really don't know now. I'll make up my mind after I'm in New York," the tennis queen replied. She then placed two of her prize racquets amongst her luggage. "Are these racquets a 'tip-off' you are going to Wimbledon?" the reporter asked. "A person doesn't usually take racquets to an art exhibit."

Mrs. Moody's answer was just a smile. The reporter then asked: "Are two racquets sufficient for a major tournament?" This time Mrs. Moody answered. She said:
"I usually use five or six racquets. But I can pick up some additional racquets in New York—if I decide to go abroad."

"Why are you uncertain now about Wimbledon?"

"Really, I don't know. It seems I just haven't made up my mind."

are asked to make a report. Monday the Gersons will play the Mahoning A. C. at Gaston park. The Gersons are getting ready for the opening of the class B league next Tuesday night.

Weather permitting the New Castle Church golfing league teams will play the second matches of the year tonight at 5:30 o'clock at the Castle Hills golf course. There are ten churches in the league. The matches on the following Thursday night will be at the Syvan Heights course.

SALLY'S SALLIES

The only interesting thing we can see in silk stockings is legs.

Members of the East Side Merchants softball team will play the first Croton M. E. church team tonight at Elder's field at 6 o'clock. All players are asked to report at the corner at 5 o'clock, according to an announcement by Manager Harry Mack. The captain of the team is C. McKibben. The East Siders have joined the Class B Softball League.

The East Side Merchants softball team won three games recently, defeating the Third U. P. team 14 to 8, the First Presbyterians 14 to 9, and the Croton Merchants 14 to 1, last night.

The East New Castle baseball team will have a practice session at Shenango high field tonight and Friday at 5:30 o'clock, it was announced. The following men are asked to report: Maki, Cassidy, Phillips, Gwin, Balla, Dugan, Sovski, Shattic, Ketzler, Harry Brown, Mehalie, Anderson, Mitchell, and any others who desire a tryout this year. The East New Castle team is in the township league.

The Keystone A. C. Juniors and Midgets will have a practice session at the Carnegie field Sunday at 1:30 p. m. All players are asked to take notice of the change in the practice date from tonight to Sunday afternoon. The Key Juniors and Midgets will have Winnie Gallagher, Frank Vigiano and Carm Benincase as their leaders.

Lutton All-Stars organized for coming softball season and will put a fast team on the field, it was announced today. The team won 36 games last year and lost but four. The team will have a practice session every night this week. Victor C. Chill is manager of the team.

The Fardale Stars baseball team will play the Croton A. C. next Monday at the Croton field. The Fardales will have a practice session Friday and Saturday. The Fardales would like to play or book games with all fast teams and especially the Diamond A. C., Jackson A. C. or the American Legion Junior team. For games see Chuck Tuscano, the business manager.

The Gersons softball team will play the Tolan A. C. juniors Friday night at the Gaston park field at 5:30 o'clock. All of the Gerson boys

Grimm Contends Cardinals Will Be Team To Beat

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 14.—To Charley Grimm, banjo-strumming manager of the Cubs, the current National League race holds more prospective surprises than a porcupine has quills. And, like those same quills, each surprise is likely to prove decidedly painful to the party of the second part.

As Charley sees it, the Cards are still the team to beat. He expects the Cubs and Cards to run one-two (and he hopes in that order), but beyond that he refuses to guess. "They all have a chance," chirps Charley, "The Dodgers as well as the Giants, the Reds just as much as the Pirates."

Pirates Have Power
"As a matter of fact, if Pie Traynor can come up with a pitcher or two, the Pirates could win the pennant with ease. They've got power to burn."

Charley can't see the Giants for the long pull. "Too slow," says he, "and like me, Terry needs another pitcher. In fact, everybody seems to need something, so you can look for some trades before long."

"As it is now, everybody can beat anybody else almost any time."

Well, didn't he consider that an ideal situation?

Charley grinned. "Not for us. The Cubs want to beat everybody all the time. But, seriously, the weaker clubs have all strengthened their pitching staffs and they're harder to take. No more pushovers."

Business Men To Golf Friday

The New Castle Business Men's golf league will open the 1936 season at the Castle Hills course Friday. There are eight teams in the league this year. The matches will be scheduled for 5:30 o'clock. The following matches will be played—News vs. Independent Grocers, Penn Powers vs. the Universals. The Tin Mill Office team will play the Bankers. The New Castle Dry team will meet the Bell Phones. The league is playing with full handicaps this season.

Firemen Card Farrell Team

Business Manager Louis "Pick" Glitch announced today that the Sixth Ward Firemen will play the Farrell Books here Sunday afternoon at the Lee avenue field. Manager Joe Ziegler will probably use George "Shorty" Thornton on the mound.

The Farrell Books are reputed to be one of the best teams in Mercer county and last year were runners-up to the county champions. The game here Sunday should be a humdinger.

Dixie is a place where the Townsend plan seems another slick Yankee scheme to free the cullud folks.

Three games having been played Tuesday in the season's inaugural, three more Lawrence county baseball league tilts will furnish the fans with another trio of games today.

The first day's schedule included a no run, no hit pitching feat by Snyder when Bessemer blanked Mahoning 6 to 0, and a pair of home runs contributed by Kosier of Wampum and Stropica of Hillsville. Wampum beat Hillsville, while West Pittsburg and the Tin Plate team played a tie.

The card scheduled for 6 p. m. today follows: West Pittsburg at Mahoning, A. S. & T. P. at Hillsville, and Bessemer at Wampum.

Umpires assigned by Leo Hill, president of the Lawrence County Baseball League Umpires' association will handle the games.

Jones of A. S. & T. P. Mundo of Wampum and Nord of Bessemer broke into the two hits per game column. Mahoning had a trio of errors chalked against them. A similar situation existed against the Tin Mill and West Pittsburg teams.

The record of how players fared in regard to putouts and assists in the Wampum-Hillsville game could not be ascertained due to the elimination by the scorer of that game. It is probable, however, that if the managers instruct their scorers as to essentials of scoring, the boys who handle the pencil and scorebook will take the same pride in turning in a complete box score as a player would in getting a hit.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 14.—Bullish business news sent pivotal issues up two to five points in the stock market today.

Allied Chemical and J. I. Case each soared five points. Westinghouse more than 4 and Greyhound, DuPont and Western Union 3 or more points each.

Steele joined the bandwagon, U. S. Steel and Bethlehem each climbing more than two points before meeting profit-taking. In the motors, Packard was up a point, Chrysler two and General Motors more than one.

Atchafalaya and Delaware Hudson rose two points in the rails while N. Y. Central and Southern Pacific moved up a point. American Smelting and copper higher and utilities, liquors and foods also improved.

Bonds were better. Crains broke more than a cent a bushel but cotton advanced 50 cents a bale.

Fatality Occurs
Here WednesdayClarence Theodore TerLinden, 9, Drowns While Playing Near RiverBODY DISCOVERED
LATE THIS MORNING

ELLWOOD CITY, May 14.—The first drowning fatality of the year in this vicinity occurred late Wednesday at Sunshine Beach, where a 9-year-old boy, Clarence Theodore TerLinden, drowned while playing near the river. The body was discovered just before 11 o'clock this morning (D. S. T.) after an all night search by 20 men.

The boy was playing with four companions about 3 p. m. near the beach. All live in Knox Plan. After a period playing together the boys went home. While there, young TerLinden decided that he would obtain his wagon and bring some sand up from the beach. His companion refused to come along with him, so he went alone.

When the lad did not appear for supper his grandparents became worried and began to inquire about him. Learning of his whereabouts from the lad's companion they immediately proceeded to the beach with several neighbors and friends. Here they found the wagon near the water but no sign of the boy.

Friends, neighbors and volunteers immediately began a search of the waters for the body. Boats and grappling hooks were used all night. The river was scoured in all directions. The body was discovered late this morning about 11 o'clock by the lad's uncle, Jacob TerLinden, and was not far from the place where the boy was believed to have fallen in.

The drowning victim had been living with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore TerLinden since the death of his parents. Funeral services are incomplete and will be announced later.

County Coroner Orville Potter is conducting an investigation of the drowning fatality today.

Wurtemberg WCTU
Plan Joint Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, May 14.—Mrs. R. H. Kirk extended the hospitality of her home at Wurtemberg on Wednesday afternoon to members of the Wurtemberg W. C. T. U. who gathered for the regular May meeting.

The devotional period was led by Mrs. J. E. Caughey. Mrs. Ralph Stewart gave an interesting report of the L. T. U. work reporting a total of twenty-seven members.

After a social period the hostess served dainty refreshments.

Mrs. W. L. Timblin, Mrs. J. E. Liebenhofer, Mrs. Lloyd Hamill, Mrs. Clifford Gibbons and Mrs. Caughey will attend Institute being held at Ellwood today.

The next meeting will be a joint meeting with the Women's Missionary societies of the two Wurtemberg churches with the date to be later determined.

Small Fire Calls
Out Department

ELLWOOD CITY, May 14.—At 7:05 last night the local fire department was called out to extinguish a small blaze at the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Beagle and family, in a three story brick building owned by Louis Simon.

A lighted match had set fire to a curtain. The prompt arrival of the local department prevented any serious damage which was estimated by Fire Chief H. T. Plante at ten dollars.

Phalanx Frat
Meets WednesdayOrganization Regrets To Receive Resignation Of Warren
McKim Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, May 14.—The regular meeting of the Ellwood City Phalanx Fraternity was held Wednesday evening in the club rooms, with an attendance of 22 members.

Quaestor Warren McKim advised the fraternity that he expects to leave the city on June 1st to attend school, and offered his resignation as Quaestor. The club was sorry to learn of Mr. McKim's leaving and the appreciation of the members for the valuable service he has given the fraternity during the past four years.

Bernard Ross was elected to complete the unexpired term of the retiring Quaestor, and responded with suitable remarks.

Robert Jones of the camp committee announced that his committee had no definite report on a summer camp as yet, but were renewing their efforts to locate a site within the next few days.

Township Board
Elects Teachers

ELLWOOD CITY, May 14.—An election of teachers for the year 1936-37 and the levying of the tax millage for the same year were the principal items of business transacted by members of the North Sewickley township school board when they convened in regular session on Tuesday night in the Locust Grove schoolhouse.

The following teachers were elected: Agnes Czar, Frances Nelson, Mary Buoy, Aida Steele, Dorothy Magee, Glenn McCune, Dorothy Shannon and Vera Connelly.

Newly elected teachers are: Katherine Taggart, Rhoda Rudolph, Elizabeth McCray, Carl Wolcott, William Lowry and Lyle Vogler.

The tax millage for the ensuing year was set at fifteen mills, the same rate as that of last year. This is one of the lowest millage rates in this district. The per capita tax will remain at $5.

Dinner Honors
Anniversary Date

ELLWOOD CITY, May 14.—In celebration of their sixteenth wedding anniversary Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gregg, of Rockdale, recently entertained a group of relatives at a dinner at their home.

At noon the group partook of a delicious dinner served by the hostess at a prettily appointed table. The hours were passed in a social manner.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Eliza Luntz and sons Edward and William, and daughter Esther; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Koehler and niece, Miss Ella Gerwig, all of Zellenople.

Banquet WednesdayU. P. Church Is Scene Of Annual Event; Interesting Program Carried Out

ELLWOOD CITY, May 14.—Local W. B. A. lodge held its annual mothers and daughters banquet last evening at 6:30 in the U. P. church with covers laid for 80.

The tables were beautifully decorated with lovely spring flowers. Small pink and blue baskets were used as favors. Mrs. Pansy Johnston presided as toastmistress on the occasion and kept things going in a veteran like manner as she introduced the speakers and announced the program.

A toast to the mothers was given by Cathryn Eisenberg, to which Mrs. Elita Humphrey responded. The program was first opened with a song by the junior girls. Mrs. Minnie Anderson gave a toast to the mothers and Mrs. Lottie Douds responded. A solo, "My Mom", was then sung by Norma Jean Howells, member of the junior club.

Mrs. Marlene Scheidebantle received the prize for being the oldest mother present and Mrs. Mary Jane Wittee was the youngest. Mrs. Elita Savers of Beaver Falls received the award for coming the longest distance.

A Pioneer pin was given to Susan Stevenson for her faithful service in the W. B. A. lodge for the past 25 years.

The committee in charge of the successful affair was composed of Mrs. Robert Morris, Mrs. Lola Wolfe, Mrs. James Mackey and Mrs. Johnston.

W. M. Society
At Bowers Home

ELLWOOD CITY, May 14.—Mrs. Charles Bowers proved to be a pleasing hostess yesterday when she entertained members of the Women's Missionary Society of the North Sewickley Presbyterian church at her home at Riverview.

The day was devoted to sewing and quilting and at noon the hostess served a tempting tureen dinner.

"Spanish Speaking America" was the topic for discussion and it was presented in an interesting manner by Mrs. Bowers. Papers on the subject were contributed by Mrs. Clem Hays, Mrs. Walter Dilln and Mrs. R. E. Bell.

Mrs. Samuel Hart invited the group to meet at her home in Marion township for the next regular meeting on Wednesday, June 10.

Arrest Three For Hold-up Of TrainTrio Taken At Newark For Sensational Train Robbery
In April

(International News Service)
NEWARK, N. J., May 14.—Capture of three Newark men, alleged to have participated in the spectacular passenger train hold-up at Nutley last month and to have supplied the stolen car and stolen license plates used by the gang which robbed the Pinebush National Bank at Pinebush, N. Y., last Monday, was announced today by Deputy Police Chief John Haller.

Five men, armed with pistols and a machine gun, held up an Erie passenger train at Nutley on April 17 and escaped with $800 in cash. The Pinebush hold-up was also perpetrated by five men, two of whom have been wounded and captured by New York state troopers while a third committed suicide when capture was inevitable. The other two are still being sought.

Chief Haller said that the men, who have been identified as members of the train hold-up gang by witnesses, gave the names of Peter Guarino, alias Pete Russo; Robert Landon and Alexander Palumbo.

Quadruplets Are Capital Visitors

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 14.—Four young girls in white dashed into the lobby of the Mayflower hotel today and thereupon all eyes in the establishment were upon them.

They were dressed alike and resembled each other closely. So bystanders whispered questions, and were told the girls are the Keys quadruplets of Texas.

On their way back to school in Texas, after a tour which included a visit to Callander, Ont., to see the Dionne quadruplets, the "quads" are viewing Washington and the capitol for the first time. They will stay here for two days and then enroute for Waco, where they are attending Baylor university.

'Dog Food' Speech Hurts Dickinson

Senator Given Heroic Role In Address Before Senate Which Backfires

RESULTS IN NEW PUBLICITY AGENT

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S street By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON, May 14.—The smallest things can inflate or puncture a presidential boom.

Senator L. J. Dickinson's boom was not such a big one. Still, the Iowan, classified as a Republican dark horse with some few possibilities. No list of candidates for the G. O. P. nomination was considered complete unless his name was on it.

Now he is referred to in Washington as "Dog Food Dickinson". What chance does any man stand of being named for the presidency handicapped with such a nickname as "Dog Food"?

STRIKING APPEARANCE The appellation is particularly ridiculous in association with a personality like Senator Dickinson's. The senator is an impressive-looking individual—bulky, white-haired and handsome. He has a fine oratorical delivery. So far as appearance is concerned, and lung power, and maybe ability, he should be a creditable candidate for any exalted office.

But what an anti-climax when, as surely would happen in the midst of any address he undertook to make, if some hoodlum in the audience yelled, "Dog Food!"

WHERE BLAME LIES The Republican publicity staff wished the "Dog Food" curse upon Dickinson, quite unintentionally—unintentionally as a curse, that is to say.

The G. O. P. publicity folk meant well by the senator. They thought up the yarn to the effect that "many Americans" are so hard up that they are compelled to live on canned dog food. They needed a very prominent person to broadcast this story in a way to attract a maximum of attention. And they hit on the Hawkeye statesman to do it, from the senate floor. They approved of him because he is exceptionally sonorous and they reckoned that he would give it a good send-off. They thought they were doing him a favor. The speech would add to his prestige, according to their calculations.

It might have done so if the publicity experts had been satisfied to supply Dickinson with the necessary "dog food" (raw) material and let him attend to the rest of it. But they did not. They tried to help him.

A BLUNDER In the first place, they wrote his speech for him.

Then they wrote an article describing the breathless, horrified fashion in which a crowded senate listened to him. They mentioned the cans of dog food on the Iowan's desk, as he spoke.

Next they combined speech and description, mimeographed them and distributed copies to the press—before the speech had been delivered.

Several of these copies fell into the hands of Democratic senators—prematurely. When Dickinson got up to speak they absented themselves. There wasn't a corporal's guard present while Dickinson was speaking. There were no dog food cans on the Iowan's desk, either.

SATIRICAL COMMENT Dickinson having finished, Senator James P. Byrnes, South Carolina Democrat and New Dealer, put into the Congressional Record a copy of one of the advanced accounts prepared by the G. O. P. publicity experts—as anticipated, but as it did not eventuate.

He put in some satirical comment also. Immediately afterward, dog food producers saw their chance for some first-class advertising. They began to explain that their stuff is plenty good enough for human consumption. One of them, in Washington, gave a dog food banquet, from soup to nuts, to the newspaper correspondents. It was good, too.

POOR ADVERTISING All this was poor advertising for the G. O. P.

Not that human beings ought to have to eat dog food, but the whole proposition was ridiculous—the worst imaginable thing in politics.

The Republican high command showed its realization of it by hiring a new publicity agent—Bruce Barton, advertising man and author, to do his best to improve the G. O. P.'s publicity.

It needs it.

What a world! By the time you become an expert, you are 35. And at 40 they say you are too old.

Summer Suits of Congo Cloth

Utterly fresh, trimly tailored and cool as an ice cube. That's the way you'll look and feel in these Congo cloth suits. This fabric keeps its shape, wears well and is always band-box fresh, because its distinctive weave resists crushing. Two-piece mannish tailored, in single or double-breasted styles. Neatly fitted and beautifully tailored, this is the summer suit for you. Sizes 12 to 20. $10.00
